S1. Ans.(b)

Sol. Both (I) and (II) are correct.

S2. Ans.(d)

Sol. Only (III) is correct.

S3. Ans.(a)

Sol. Only (I) is correct. 'To' will be followed by first form of verb.

S4. Ans.(d)

Sol. Both (I) and (III) are correct. Both 'given' and 'considering' here mean taking into account.

S5. And.(e)

Sol. No correction required

S6. Ans.(a)

Sol. Only (I) is correct. "is considered a " is more correct. When two things are compared to be equal, "as" is indeed not necessary.

S7. Ans.(d)

Sol. Only (III) is correct. 'Its' shows possession and 'it's' shows 'it is'.

S8. Ans.(b)

Sol. Only (II) is correct. As the sentence is in past tense, 'caused' will be used.

S9. And.(e)

Sol. No correction required

S10. Ans.(c)

Sol. Both (II) and (III) are correct. 'concern with/about' means to become involved in something because you are interested in it or because it worries you.

S11. And.(e)

Sol. No correction required

S12. Ans.(a)

Sol. Only (I) is correct. 'To' will be followed by first form of verb.

S13. And.(e)

Sol. No correction required

Feign: pretend to be affected by (a feeling, state, or injury).

S19. Ans.(d)

Sol. Unreliable: not able to be relied upon.
Unpredictable: not able to be predicted; changeable.

S20. Ans.(d)

Sol. Quest: a long or arduous search for something.
Enquiry: an act of asking for information.

S21. Ans.(b)

Sol. Vex: make (someone) feel annoyed, frustrated, or worried, especially with trivial matters.
Distress: extreme anxiety, sorrow, or pain.

S22. Ans.(a)

Sol. Replete: filled or well-supplied with something.
Loaded: make (someone or something) carry or hold a large or excessive quantity of heavy things.

S23. And.(e)

Sol. Portend: be a sign or warning that (something, especially something momentous or calamitous) is likely to happen.

S24. Ans.(d)

Sol. Surmise: suppose that something is true without having evidence to confirm it.

S25. Ans.(b)

Sol. Damage: inflict physical harm on (something) so as to impair its value, usefulness, or normal function.
Aid: help or support (someone or something) in the achievement of something.

S26. Ans.(a)

Sol. Impute: represent (something, especially something undesirable) as being done or possessed by someone; attribute.

Exonerate: (of an official body) absolve (someone) from blame for a fault or wrongdoing.

S27. Ans.(d)

Sol. Zeal: great energy or enthusiasm in pursuit of a cause or an objective.

S38. Ans.(b)

Sol. "are things of beauty in their own right" is grammatically and contextually correct and maintains the continuity of the sentence.

S39. And.(e)

Sol. Solace: comfort or consolation in a time of great distress or sadness.
Distress: cause (someone) anxiety, sorrow, or pain.

S40. Ans.(b)

Sol. Refer last lines of paragraph 2. Leaves are referred as primary producers of food and not secondary.

S41. Ans.(b)

Sol. "but the country has made some progress when it comes to digital payment services." is grammatically and contextually correct and maintains the continuity of the sentence.

S42. Ans.(a)

Sol. Unprecedented means never done or known before. Hence, 'standard developments' is incorrect.

S43. And.(e)

Sol. All of the Above. Refer 2nd paragraph.

S44. Ans.(d)

Sol. Crucial: of great importance.
Trivial: of little value or importance.

S45. Ans.(b)

Sol. Embrace: accept (a belief, theory, or change) willingly and enthusiastically.

S46. Ans.(c)

Sol. The correct sentence is: Justice is necessary to address the wrongs and alleviate suffering but forgiveness too can play a reparative role provided it is seen as complementary to justice, not a substitute for it.

If South Asia is one of the world's least integrated regions, India is one of the world's least regionally-integrated major powers.

While there indeed are structural impediments (posed by both India and its neighbours) in fostering regional integration, the most significant handicap is New Delhi's ideational disinclination towards its neighbourhood.

Successive regimes have considered the neighbourhood as an irritant and challenge, not an opportunity. Seldom have India's policies displayed a sense of belonging to the region or a desire to work with the neighbourhood for greater integration and cooperation.

Today, we have become even more transactional, impatient and small-minded towards our neighbourhood which has, as a result, restricted our space for manoeuvre in the regional geopolitical scheme of things.

S62. Ans.(b)

Sol. The correct rearrangement is DACFE and B is out of context.

While there are many refreshing improvements in NITI Aayog's 'Strategy for New India @ 75' from the erstwhile Planning Commission's plans, there are also concerns about some of the strategies recommended.

The intent to change the approach to planning from preparations of plans and budgets to the creation of a mass movement for development in which "every Indian recognises her role and experiences the tangible benefits" is laudable.

The strategy affirms that "policymaking will have to be rooted in ground realities" rather than economic abstractions.

It says that stakeholders have been consulted widely in preparing the strategy, which is also something that the erstwhile Planning Commission said.

However, what matters is the quality of consultations. It will be worthwhile for NITI Aayog to get feedback from stakeholders on whether it has improved the process of consultation substantially or not.

S67. Ans.(b)

Officially, Twitter has strong rules against abuse and hate speech on its platform, yet nothing much seems to happen once abuse has been reported.

The attacks continue, and victims are silenced. This has been a source of frustration not just for Twitter users but even for the company's senior staff.

In an internal memo in 2015 that was leaked, then Twitter CEO Dick Costolo not only admitted that Twitter "sucks" at dealing with abuse and trolls but also that the platform has "sucked at it for years".

Three years later, nothing much has changed. In March, Amnesty International released a report titled 'Toxic Twitter'.

Based on research conducted over a 16-month period, it concluded that Twitter was failing in its responsibility to protect "women of colour, women from ethnic or religious minorities and women with disabilities" from online violence and abuse.

S76. Ans.(b)

Sol. Option (b) is the most suitable choice to be selected as the answer.

The given paragraph is describing about the meet up between Putin and Saudi Arabia. This handshake between these two is given a hint to the U.S. that the Central Asian countries have started to explore other geopolitical points (countries), In particular, the bonds between the U.S. and many of its authoritarian allies are weakening as there is a struggle between liberal and illiberal forms of government and so geopolitical alignments are shifting in subtle but momentous ways. All other given options are either out of context or not getting fit in the blank grammatically. Hence option (b) is the correct answer choice.

S77. Ans.(c)

Sol. Option (c) is the most suitable choice to be selected as the answer. The given paragraph is describing about the meet up between Putin and Saudi Arabia. This handshake between these two is given a hint to the U.S. that the Central Asian countries have started to explore other geopolitical points (countries), In particular, the bonds between the U.S. and many of its authoritarian allies are weakening as there is a struggle between liberal and illiberal forms of government and so geopolitical alignments are shifting in subtle but momentous ways. All other given options are talking about the ongoing issues between Putin and Turkey so there is no certainty that any of the options given will fit in the given blank. Hence option (c) is the correct answer choice.

S78. Ans.(d)

Sol. Option (d) is the most suitable choice to be selected as the answer.

The given paragraph is describing about the meet up between Putin and Saudi Arabia. This handshake between these two is given a hint to the U.S. that the Central Asian countries have started to explore other geopolitical points (countries), In particular, the bonds between the U.S. and many of its authoritarian allies are weakening as there is a struggle between liberal and illiberal forms of government and so geopolitical alignments are shifting in subtle but momentous ways. Option (a) is talking about some implementations which is nowhere mentioned in the passage, option (e) is taking about some person named Poroshenko which is also not mentioned anywhere in the given paragraph. Hence option (d) is the correct answer choice.

S79. Ans.(a)

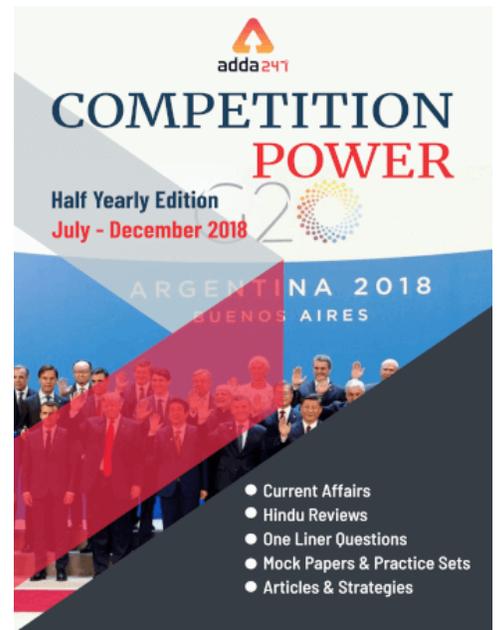

Sol. Option (a) is the most suitable choice to be selected as the answer.

All other given options are either out of context as all are talking about the relation between Putin and Uzbekistan. Hence option (a) is the correct answer choice.

S80. Ans.(b)

Sol. Option (b) is the most suitable choice to be selected as the answer.

The given paragraph is describing about the meet up between Putin and Saudi Arabia. This handshake between these two is given a hint to the U.S. that the Central Asian countries have started to explore other geopolitical points (countries), In particular, the bonds between the U.S. and many of its authoritarian allies are weakening as there is a struggle between liberal and illiberal forms of government and so geopolitical alignments are shifting in subtle but momentous ways. All other given options are either out of context or not getting fit in the blank grammatically. Hence option (b) is the correct answer choice.

S81. Ans.(b)

Sol. "the Earth's atmosphere will ensure that the temperature at the surface of the Earth is able to support life as we know it." is correct as it maintains the continuity of the sentence and is contextually correct and meaningful. Hence option (b) is the correct answer choice.

S82. Ans.(d)

Sol. "aggressively reduce carbon emissions and quickly commit to using alternative energy sources." correctly fits in the blank as the paragraph deal with the safety of planet and what should be done in favour of the planet. Hence option (d) is the correct answer choice.

S83. Ans.(c)

Sol. "doubled the volumes of nitrogen and phosphorus in the soil at the surface of the Earth, resulting in toxic run-offs." correctly and meaningfully completes the sentence. Hence option (c) is the correct answer choice.

S84. Ans.(b)

Sol. "One particular freedom that has come under fire is the freedom of practising one's own religion." is the correct opening statement and is correctly the introductory statement for the paragraph. Hence option (b) is the correct answer choice.

S85. Ans.(c)

Sol. "Are governments across the world increasingly posing a threat to liberty?" maintains the continuity of the paragraph. All other given options are either out of context or not getting fit in the blank grammatically. Hence option (c) is the correct answer choice.

S109. Ans.(c)

Sol. Option (c) is the most suitable choice to be selected as the answer.

Statement A is talking about NBFCs taking risk and the other statement E is also taking about that same risk that NBFCs are taking so A-E is a correct match. Similarly, statement B is conveying that the banks are the fund providers to NBFCs, statement F is also taking about that funding link mechanism so B-F also match perfectly. Hence option (c) is the correct answer choice.

S110. Ans.(e)

Sol. Option (e) is the most suitable choice to be selected as the answer.

Statement D is talking about a person who is a founder of the blog Modeled Behavior which doesn't connect with any other given statement.

Statement B and F are making sense together but there is no connecting word that can prove that these two statements are part of a single sentence, so match B-F can be eliminated. All other given statements are not making any match contextually.

Hence option (e) is the correct answer choice.

S111. Ans.(b)

Sol. Only parts A-F make a contextually correct sentence. B and D both are related to loan waivers but they contextually do not make sense together. Hence, option (b) is the correct choice.

S112. Ans.(a)

Sol. A-F and B-D make contextually and grammatically correct sentences.

S113. Ans.(c)

Sol. Pairs A-F makes a contextually and grammatically correct sentence. Also, sentence B shows the rate of indebtedness and further statement D also talks about this rate. Hence, B-D form a contextually and grammatically correct sentence. Hence, option (c) is the correct choice.

S114. Ans.(a)

Sol. A-F, C-E and B-D make contextually and grammatically correct sentences. A-F deals with circumstances that are out of control. B-d describes what can be done in case of incidences of natural disasters, extensive pest attack and such calamities and C-D also makes a contextually correct and meaningful sentence.

S115. And.(e)

Sol. None of these make correct and meaningful sentences.

S116. Ans.(d)

Sol. C-D and B-E make contextually and grammatically correct sentences. A-F do not make sense when connected together.

S117. And.(e)

Sol. The pairs A-E, B-F and C-D contextually are related to each other but grammatically none of these frame grammatically correct sentences. Hence, option (e) is the correct choice.

S118. And.(e)

Sol. None of these make correct and meaningful sentences.

S119. Ans.(d)
