Directions (1-10): Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below it. Certain words are given in bold to help you locate them while answering some of the questions.

ISRAELI Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu was among the first world leaders to congratulate Narendra Modi after he led his party to a sweeping electoral victory in 2014. The two leaders have known each other for some time and have seemingly formed a mutual admiration society. When Modi was Chief Minister of Gujarat, he made a few trips to Israel. After taking over as Prime Minister, one of the first announcements he made was about making a visit to Israel. It has, however, taken him more than three years to fulfill his fervent desire to be the first Indian Prime Minister to visit the Jewish state. Israel's wars on Gaza have brought it much international opprobrium, but the National Democratic Alliance (NDA) government dispatched President Pranab Mukherjee to Israel in 2016 even as the Palestinians were protesting on the streets of Jerusalem, Ramallah and other occupied cities.

The Indian President, in fact, faced protests from Palestinian students when he visited Ramallah, where the Palestinian Authority (P.A.) is based. Modi, during his visit, did not even bother to go there. Unlike some other world leaders, Modi does not pretend to shed even crocodile tears over the fate of Palestinians. On paper, India still supports Palestinian statehood. When P.A. President Mahmoud Abbas visited New Delhi in June, the Indian Prime Minister reassured Palestinians of India's continuing commitment to a two-state solution. The Palestinian side has conceded that India has the right to strengthen its relationship with Israel but said that it should not come at their expense. China and India are Israel's biggest defence customers.

The huge profits Israel earns from arms sales is ploughed back into military research and production, which is used to further strengthen its oppression and occupation of Palestinian land. During Modi's visit, Netanyahu described the bilateral relations between the two countries as a "marriage made in heaven". When Netanyahu was in Beijing earlier this year, he said that Israel was the perfect junior partner China needed as it ascended to superpower status, and he used the words "marriage made in heaven" to describe the status of Israel-China relations. Israel's relationship with both India and China is purely transactional despite the Bharatiya Janata Party's (BJP) claim of ideological affinity with the ruling right-wing Likud Party led by Netanyahu.

The P.A., which has very little credibility in the eyes of ordinary Palestinians, is not in a position to influence many governments in the world. Its own wealthy patrons such as Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates are building strong relations with Israel. Brajesh Mishra, who was National Security Adviser to Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee in the first NDA government, had in a speech delivered to the American Israel Public Affairs Committee, an influential Jewish lobby group in Washington, called for a Washington-Tel Aviv-New Delhi axis in international politics. Today, that axis is a reality and has expanded to include Cairo, Riyadh and Abu Dhabi. Iran, not Israel, is today the designated arch-enemy of Gulf monarchies such as Saudi Arabia. Palestinians, with a disunited leadership, are more isolated and even more at the mercy and whims of Israel and its patron, the United States, than ever before.

Q21. A weeks-long disaster (21) on the shared border between China, India and tiny Bhutan — the sort that decently (22) makes the headlines outside the countries involved — has lasted longer than usual, and neither side looks ready to drop (23). Troops have had shoving matches and now stare one another down from encampments (24) just miles apart. Although previous confrontations have been quietly resolved, this time some Indian strategists believe China will soon be engaging (25) to launch a limited cruel (26) strike as a reminder of its military superiority.
Clashes between India and China don't usually matter to the rest of the world. Even when the two countries fought a short and caustic (27) border war in 1962, the world's attention was fixated on the hanging (28) nuclear crisis in Cuba. While Indians have never quite forgotten our mocking (29) loss in that war, China has rarely chosen to remind us of it. This time, however, the usual chest-beating from India's hyper-patriotic news media has been matched by similar noises from over the border. Directions (51-55): Study the following information carefully and answer the questions given below:

Six boxes i.e. A, B, C, D, E, F are placed one above another. They have different items i.e. U, V, W, X, Y, Z. All information is not necessarily in same order.

Three boxes are placed between B and F. Box which have W is placed just above B. C is placed just above the box which have X and just below the box which have Y. There are as many boxes are placed between A and D as between A and E. Box which have U is placed above E and box which have V is placed below E. C is placed below the box which have Z.

Q51. How many boxes are placed between A and E?
(a) None
(b) One
(c) Two
(d) Three
(e) Four

Q52. Which of the following box is placed just above F?
(a) B
(b) A
(c) C
(d) D
(e) E

Q53. Which of the following item is in box B?
(a) U
(b) V
(c) W
(d) Z
(e) None of these

Q54. Which of the following box is in topmost position?
(a) A
(b) C
(c) D
(d) F
(e) None of these

Q55. A is related to X, D is related to Y then in same manner which is related to V?
(a) B
(b) C
(c) E
(d) F
(e) None of these

Directions (56-58): In each of the questions below are given some statements followed by two conclusions. You have to take the given statements to be true even if they seem to be at variance with commonly known facts. Read all the conclusions and then decide which of the given conclusions logically follows from the given statements disregarding commonly known facts.

Q56. Statements:
Only a few Rocket is Plane.
No Plane is Aircraft.
All Aircraft is Car.
Conclusion
I: All Rocket is being Plane is a possibility.
II: Some Plane is being Car is a possibility.
