In countryside there are acres of farm lands which is hardly seen in cities. The sense of enjoyment is very different in countryside as compared to the city.

S46. Ans.(c)

Sol. In context of the passage, as compared to other options, option(c) seems to be the most appropriate title for the given passage.

S47. Ans.(b)

Sol. Strife means Conflict.

Truce means an agreement between enemies or opponents to stop fighting or arguing for a certain time.

Discord means lack of agreement or harmony between things.

S48. Ans.(c)

Sol. Quaint means attractively unusual or old-fashioned.

Whimsical has same meaning as quaint.

S49. Ans.(d)

Slouching means stand, move, or sit in a lazy, drooping way.

Slumping means sit, lean, or fall heavily and limply.

S56. Ans.(d)

Sol. While the quantifier 'a little' means something that is not much in quantity, 'little' means something that is almost nil. In the case of sentence (IV), there is almost no knowledge of a certain fact.

Hence except (IV), all sentences are grammatically correct.

S57. Ans.(c)

Sol. "A good deal" is used as a quantifier with uncountable nouns, like work, writing, etc. The phrase, when not used as a quantifier, can simply mean a deal that is good, like in sentence (III). But the phrase cannot be used as a quantifier with countable nouns as in sentence (II). Hence all sentences except (II) are grammatically correct.

S58. Ans.(c)

Sol. In case of sentence (I), replace 'were' by 'was' as "The Secretary and Treasurer" denotes the same person. However, if "The Secretary and the Treasurer" were used, then the verb "were" would have been correct as it denotes two different persons and in such cases, it takes plural verb.

e.g. The Secretary and Principal has come.

The Secretary and the Principal have come.

In sentence (III), remove 'to' after 'resembles' to make the sentence grammatically correct. "Resemble" is a Transitive Verb and thus it is always followed by Object and not 'to', 'with', etc.

e.g. She resembles her mother.

Hence only sentences (II) and (IV) are grammatically correct.

S59. Ans.(a)

Sol. In sentence (II), replace 'take' by 'takes' to make the sentence grammatically correct as "One of" is followed by a Plural Noun or Pronoun but it always takes Singular verb.

e.g. One of the volcanic eruptions takes place.

In sentence (III), 'you' should be followed by 'are' as "you" is such a Pronoun which acts the same way in both Nominative Case and Objective Case.

e.g. I like him more than you. [=I like him more than (I like) you.]

I like him more than you do. [=I like him more than you like him.]

In sentence (IV), replace 'his' by "one's" as when the subject of the sentence is "One" and it refers to 'anybody' then the possessive of 'one' is "one's".

e.g. One should be respectful to one's elders.

Hence only sentence (I) is grammatically correct.

S60. Ans.(e)

Sol. All the given sentences are grammatically correct.

S61. Ans.(a)
