Answer: C

Sol: The correct answer is: (c) It suggests that early solar output was too weak to prevent global freezing

Explanation:

- The Faint Young Sun Paradox arises because about 4 billion years ago, the Sun's luminosity was only ~70% of today's.
- This weaker Sun should have left Earth frozen solid, yet geological evidence shows liquid water and a relatively warm climate existed.
- This paradox challenges climate models and suggests additional warming mechanisms (like greenhouse gases) were at play.

Information Booster:

- Term introduced by astronomer Carl Sagan and George Mullen (1972).
- Proposed solutions include higher concentrations of CO<sub>2</sub>, CH<sub>4</sub>, NH<sub>3</sub> in the early atmosphere.
- Geological evidence: ancient sedimentary rocks show presence of liquid water.
- Volcanic outgassing and reduced continental landmass may have influenced warming.
- The paradox is key in studies of early Earth habitability and astrobiology.

Answer: B

Sol: The correct answer is (b) Both A and R are true, and R is the correct explanation of A

Explanation:

• People entering a new country or region to live there are called immigrants.

• Those who leave their own country to live elsewhere are called emigrants.

• These terms describe opposite perspectives of the same movement.

• Immigration is seen from the destination country's viewpoint.

- B. Both A and R are true, but R is not the correct explanation of A.
- C. Both A and R are true, and R is the correct explanation of A.
- D. A is true but R is false.

Answer: C

Sol: Correct Answer: C

Explanation:

- Assertion (A): True → Migration occurs due to both positive (better jobs, education, safety) and negative (poverty, unemployment, disasters) reasons.
  - Reason (R): True → Push factors (unemployment, conflict) drive people out, while pull factors (opportunities, safety) attract them elsewhere.
  - Since the Reason correctly explains the Assertion, the correct option is (c).

Q.8 What is the boiling point of water at sea level?

- A. 208.4°F
- B. 217.4°F
- C. 212°F
- D. 203°F

Answer: C

Sol: The correct answer is (c) 212°F

Explanation:

- At sea level, the atmospheric pressure is 1 atmosphere (atm).

- Under these conditions, pure water boils at exactly 212°F, which is 100°C.
- Boiling point is the temperature at which vapor pressure equals atmospheric pressure.
- Changes in elevation affect boiling point due to pressure variation.
- This value is standard in both scientific and culinary contexts.

Information Booster:

- At higher altitudes, lower pressure causes water to boil at a lower temperature.
- Pressure cookers raise pressure to increase the boiling point.
- $212^{\circ}\text{F} = 100^{\circ}\text{C} = 373.15$  Kelvin.
- Boiling involves phase change from liquid to gas.
- Impurities like salt can raise the boiling point (boiling point elevation).

Explanation:

- Under Article 356, the Governor can send a report to the President recommending President's Rule if the constitutional machinery in a state has broken down.

- In practice, even if a government claims majority, the Governor's subjective report has led to dismissal of state governments.

- Historically, this provision was often misused by the Union government to dismiss opposition-led state governments.

- However, the Supreme Court in S.R. Bommai vs. Union of India (1994) restricted arbitrary use and ruled that majority should be tested on the floor of the House.

Q.58 In a 90-student class, girls are double boys. If Rahul is 20th from top and 15 girls are ahead of him, find number of boys behind him.

- A. 28

- B. 26
- C. 24
- D. 25

Answer: D

Sol: Given:

In a 90-student class, girls are double boys.
If Rahul is 20th from top and 15 girls are ahead of him.

Solution:

Total students = 90

Girls are double the boys → Boys = 30, Girls = 60

Rahul is 20th from the top; 15 girls are ahead of him → Boys ahead = 20 - 15 = 5 (including Rahul if he is a boy)

Number of boys behind Rahul = Total boys - Boys ahead

= 30 - 5

Logic: Letters are increasing + 2, + 3, + 4 and + 5 place.

M + 2 = O

O + 3 = R

R + 4 = V

V + 5 = A

So, the missing term is A.

Thus, correct option is (b).

- A. A
- B. B
- C. E
- D. D

Answer: B

Sol: Given:

Five friends A, B, C, D and E sit around a circular table facing the center.
 B sits to the immediate right of A.
 C is to the immediate right of B.
 D is to the immediate left of E.

From the given information seating arrangement will be.

B is sitting to the immediate left of C.

Q.81 Class has 105 students. Boys are 40%, girls 60%. Shivani is 30th from top, 20 girls ahead. Find number of girls behind her.

- A. 42
- B. 45
- C. 44
- D. 43

Answer: A

Sol: Given:

Total students = 105
 Boys = 40% of 105 = 42
 Girls = 60% of 105 = 63
 Shivani's position from top = 30
 Girls ahead of her = 20
 Boys ahead of Shivani
 Total students ahead = 29 (since she is 30th)
 Boys ahead = 29 - 20 = 9
 Girls behind Shivani
 Total girls = 63
 Girls behind = 63 - 20 - 1 (Shivani herself) = 42
 Thus, correct option is (a).

Q.82 You're leading a group project and one member is not contributing. What is the best decision to resolve the issue?

- A. Do the work yourself
- B. Remove the person from the group
- C. Talk to the member and understand their reasons
- D. Complain directly to the teacher without discussion

Answer: C

Sol: Given:

You're leading a group project and one member is not contributing.

Explanation:

Directly doing the work yourself (A) is unfair to the group and may encourage non-participation.
 Removing the member (B) or complaining to the teacher (D) without discussion can create conflict and harm relationships.
 Talking to the member first allows you to identify the cause of non-contribution and resolve the issue collaboratively, which is professional and constructive.
 So, Talk to the member and understand their reasons is the best decision to resolve the issue.
 Thus, correct option is (c).

Q.83 Complete the following series:

C, E, H, L, Q, ?

- A. W
- B. X
- C. U
- D. V

Answer: A

Sol: Given: C, E, H, L, Q, ?

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M

26	25	24	23	22	21	20	19	18	17	16	15	14

Logic: Letters are increasing + 2, + 3, + 4, + 5 and + 6 place.

$$C + 2 = E$$

$$E + 3 = H$$

$$H + 4 = L$$

$$L + 5 = Q$$

$$Q + 6 = \mathbf{W}$$

So, the missing term is W.

Thus, correct option is (a).

- A. P
- B. Q
- C. U
- D. S

Answer: D

Sol: Given:

Seven persons sit in a circle, all facing outward.

P sits to the immediate right of Q.

R is second to the left of Q.

S is between P and T.

U is sitting second to the left of V.

From the given information seating arrangement will be.

- A. Open the emergency exit and alert others
- B. Panic and scream
- C. Stay seated and do nothing
- D. Wait for someone else to act

Answer: A

Sol: Explanation:

Noticing smoke from the engine is a potential fire hazard, so immediate action is required.

Opening the emergency exit and alerting passengers ensures safety and orderly evacuation.

Panicking (B), staying seated (C), or waiting (D) can be dangerous and delay evacuation.

So, Open the emergency exit and alert other.

Thus, correct option is (a).

1, 4, 13, 40, 121, ?

- A. 365
- B. 362
- C. 370
- D. 364

Answer: D

Sol: Given: 1, 4, 13, 40, 121, ?

Logic: (1st number  $\times$  3) + 1 = 2nd number is pattern follow.

$$1 \times 3 = 3, 3 + 1 = 4$$

$$4 \times 3 = 12, 12 + 1 = 13$$

$$13 \times 3 = 39, 39 + 1 = 40$$

$$40 \times 3 = 120, 120 + 1 = 121$$

$$121 \times 3 = 363, 363 + 1 = \mathbf{364}$$

So, the missing term is 364.

Thus, correct option is (d).

Thus, correct option is (c).

Q.90 A delivery agent starts from his warehouse and drives 8km North, then 6km East, and then 3 km south. He then makes a U-turn, returns 3km North, continues 4km further North, and finally takes a left turn and drives 6km. where is he now in relation to the starting point?

- A. 14km North
- B. 12 km North
- C. 6 km East
- D. 11km South

Answer: B

Sol: Given:

A delivery agent starts from his warehouse and drives 8km North, then 6km East, and then 3 km south.

He then makes a U-turn, returns 3km North, continues 4km further North, and finally takes a left turn and drives 6km.

From the given information path diagram will be.

$8 + 4 = 12\text{km}$

He is now in 12km North direction relation to the starting point.
Thus, correct option is (b).

Q.91 Arrange in a logical sequence:

1. College
  2. Admission
  3. Application
  4. Degree
  5. Result
- A. 3-2-1-5-4
B. 3-1-2-4-5
C. 2-3-1-4-5
D. 3-2-1-4-5

Answer: A

Sol: Given:

1. College 2. Admission 3. Application 4. Degree 5. Result

Explanation:

Application (3) → Apply for admission.
Admission (2) → Admission is granted.
College (1) → Join the college.
Result (5) → Appear for exams and get results.
Degree (4) → Receive the degree after completing the course.
So, the order is: 3-2-1-5-4
Thus, correct option is (a).

Q.92 Read the following statement carefully and identify the conclusion that follows.

Statement:

The school has made computer training compulsory for all students.

Conclusions:

- I. Computer knowledge is essential in the modern world.
- II. All students will become computer experts.

- A. Only Conclusion I follows.
B. Both I and II follows.
C. Neither I nor II follows.
D. Only Conclusion II follows.

Answer: A

Sol:

Statement:

The school has made computer training compulsory for all students.

Conclusion:

- I. Computer knowledge is essential in the modern world → True, this is a reasonable assumption based on the school making training compulsory.
- II. All students will become computer experts → False, the statement only says training is compulsory; it does not guarantee expertise.

So, Only Conclusion I follows.

Thus, correct option is (a).

Q.93 What number will be present in place of the questions mark?
13, 17, 25, 41, 73, ?

- A. 125
B. 97
C. 137
D. 101

Answer: C

Sol: Given: 13, 17, 25, 41, 73, ?

Logic: Each difference double the previous one.

$$17 - 13 = 4$$

$$25 - 17 = 8$$

$$41 - 25 = 16$$

$$73 - 41 = 32$$

$$\text{Next difference} = 32 \times 2 = 64$$

$$\text{Next term is: } 73 + 64 = \mathbf{137}$$

Thus, correct option is (c).

Q.94 A number when divided by 5 leaves a remainder 3. What is the remainder when its square is divided by 5?

- A. 3
B. 1
C. 4
D. 2

Answer: C

Sol: Given: A number leaves a remainder of 3 when divided by 5.

Let the number be  $n = 5k + 3$  for some integer  $k$ .

Square the number

$$n^2 = (5k + 3)^2 = 25k^2 + 30k + 9$$

Remainder when divided by 5

Terms  $25k$  and  $30k$  are divisible by 5 → remainder comes from 9

$$9 \div 5 = 1 \text{ remainder } \mathbf{4}$$

Thus, correct option is (c).

Q.95 If 'TABLE' is coded as 40 and 'CHAIR' as 39, what is the code for 'SOFA'?

- A. 40
B. 41
C. 39

D. 37

Answer: B

Sol: Given: If 'TABLE' is coded as 40 and 'CHAIR' as 39.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I	J	K	L	M
Z	Y	X	W	V	U	T	S	R	Q	P	O	N
26	25	24	23	22	21	20	19	18	17	16	15	14

Logic: Sum of place value of letters = Number

For, TABLE - 40

$$20 + 1 + 2 + 12 + 5 = 40$$

For, CHAIR - 39

$$3 + 8 + 1 + 9 + 18 = 39$$

Similarly,

SOFA - ?

$$19 + 15 + 6 + 1 = ?$$

$$? = 41$$

So, SOFA as 41.

Thus, correct option is (b).

Q.96 Arrange in logical order:

1. Income
2. Education
3. Employment
4. Interview
5. Application

- A. 2-5-4-3-1
B. 5-4-3-2-1
C. 1-2-3-4-5
D. 2-3-4-5-1

Answer: A

Sol: Given:

1. Income
2. Education
3. Employment
4. Interview
5. Application

Explanation:

Education (2) → provides knowledge and qualifications.

Application (5) → applying for a job after gaining education.

Interview (4) → attending an interview for selection.

Employment (3) → getting the job.

Income (1) → earning salary after employment.

So, the order is: 2-5-4-3-1

Thus, correct option is (a).

Q.97 In each of the following questions, a specific relationship is given between two words. Identify the word that shares a similar semantic relationship with the given pair. Choose the most appropriate option from the four choices given below.

Glacier : Melt :: Volcano : ?

- A. Flow
B. Explode
C. Erupt
D. Burn

Answer: C

Sol: Given: Glacier : Melt :: Volcano : ?

Glacier → Melt (a glacier melts)

Similarly,

Volcano : ?

Volcano → Erupt (a volcano erupts)

The relationship is subject : natural action/phenomenon.

Thus, correct option is (c).

Q.98 A man sees smoke coming from a building and hears people shouting. What should he do first?

- A. Run away immediately
B. Try to enter the building
C. Call emergency services
D. Ignore and move on

Answer: C

Sol: Explanation:

The first and most important action in an emergency is to alert the authorities who can handle the situation safely.

Running away (A) or ignoring it (D) does not help anyone.

Trying to enter the building (B) could put the man in danger.

So, Call emergency services.

Thus, correct option is (c).

Q.99 Given the situation below, which of the following is the most responsible course of action for you?

While driving, you witness a minor fender bender in a parking lot. One car, which appears to be at fault, quickly drives away without stopping. The other car's driver is still in their vehicle, looking shaken and surveying the damage.

Given this situation, which of the following is the most ethical and responsible action?

- A. Assume it's minor incident and continue driving, as it doesn't involve you directly.
B. Pull over safely, check on the driver of the damaged car, and offer to provide your contact information and what you witnessed.
C. Immediately call emergency services, even if there are no apparent injuries.
D. Chase after the car that drove away to get their license plate number and confront them.

Answer: B

Sol: Explanation:

A (ignore and continue) is irresponsible; the driver who caused the accident left the scene.

C (call emergency services immediately) may not be necessary for a minor fender bender with no injuries, though it's optional.

D (chase and confront) can be dangerous and is not safe or responsible.

B ensures the shaken driver is supported, and you provide truthful witness information if needed—this is ethical, responsible, and safe.
The most responsible and ethical action is: Pull over safely, check on the driver of the damaged car, and offer to provide your contact information and what you witnessed.
Thus, correct option is (b).

Q.100 Read the following statements and conclusion carefully. Assume the statements to be absolutely true, even if they contradict known facts. Based only on the information given in the statements, decide which of the conclusions logically follow.

Statements:

- I. Some students are clever.
- II. All clever people are honest.
- III. No honest person is lazy.

Conclusions:

- 1. Some students are honest.
- 2. No student is lazy.
- 3. Some clever people are not lazy.
- 4. Some honest people are not students.

- A. All 1, 2, 3 and 4 follows.
- B. Only 1, 3, and 4 follows.
- C. Only 2 and 4 follows.
- D. Only 1 and 3 follows.

Answer: D

Sol: Statements:

- I. Some students are clever.
- II. All clever people are honest.
- III. No honest person is lazy.

From the given statements possible Venn diagram will be.

Conclusions:

- 1. Some students are honest. (True, some students are clever and all clever people are honest, so that means some students are honest).
- 2. No student is lazy. (False, there is no direct or indirect relation between student and lazy).
- 3. Some clever people are not lazy. (True, all clever people are honest and no honest person is lazy, so that means some clever people are not lazy).
- 4. Some honest people are not students. (False, some students are clever and all clever people are honest, so that means some honest people are also students).

So, Only 1 and 3 follows.

Thus, correct option is (d).

Q.101 Select the option that expresses the given sentence in Direct to Indirect Speech,
They said, "How foolish of him to say that!"

- A. They exclaimed how foolish of him to say that.
- B. They exclaimed that it had been very foolish of him to say that.
- C. They exclaimed that he is very foolish to say that!
- D. They said it was very foolish of him to say that.

Answer: B

Sol: The correct indirect speech is They exclaimed that it had been very foolish of him to say that.

Rules of conversion (exclamations → reported speech):

- Replace the reporting verb said with exclaimed for an exclamatory sentence.
- Remove quotation marks and the exclamation mark; use a that-clause.
- Change interjection/exclamatory pattern (How foolish of him!) to a statement (that it was/had been very foolish of him).
- Apply backshift because the reporting verb is in the past: present/"is" → was/ had been. Since the comment refers to a completed situation at the time of speaking, had been is acceptable and matches the option.
- Adjust pronouns and deictics as needed; here, him and that already fit.
- Why others are wrong:
- (a) They exclaimed how foolish... → lacks a that-clause and remains exclamatory/ill-formed.
- (c) ...that he is very foolish... → no backshift (is → * was/had been). Also keeps the exclamatory tone with "!".
- (d) Uses said, not exclaimed; weaker reporting for an exclamation and misses the nuance.

Q.102 (1)

In the following passage, some words have been omitted. Read the passage carefully and choose the most appropriate option from the given alternatives to fill in each blank. Mark your answer for each question.

Ravi and Arjun had been rivals on the football field since their first year in school. Both were talented players, and their competition often brought out the best-and sometimes the worst-in them. When the school team was selected for the district championship, both were chosen to play. At first, their rivalry made teamwork difficult. Passes were missed, tempers (1) _____ and the coach had to step in. He reminded them that personal pride should never come before the team. Slowly, Ravi and Arjun began to (2) _____ one another's strengths instead of focusing on their differences. As trust grew, their coordination improved, and the team's performance soared. In the semi-final match, it was a pass from Ravi that helped Arjun score the winning goal. The crowd cheered not just for the win, but for the sportsmanship. What began as a clash ended in a strong (3) that taught them the value of unity, mutual (4) _____ and shared (5) _____

- A. broke
- B. cooled
- C. flared
- D. paused

Answer: C

Sol: The correct answer is option (c) flared.

Why it fits: The fixed expression "tempers flared" means people became suddenly angry or irritable—exactly what happens when rivalry disrupts teamwork, prompting the coach to intervene. The sentence "Passes were missed, tempers flared, and the coach had to step in" is idiomatic and coherent.

Context of the passage: Early rivalry undermines teamwork; emotions run high until guidance refocuses them on the team.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) broke — "tempers broke" is unidiomatic; break doesn't collocate naturally with tempers in this sense.
- (b) cooled — the opposite meaning (to calm down); it would contradict the need for the coach to step in.
- (d) paused — tempers don't "pause"; this doesn't convey anger or rising tension.

Q.103 (2)

In the following passage, some words have been omitted. Read the passage carefully and choose the most appropriate option from the given alternatives to fill in each blank. Mark your answer for each question.

Ravi and Arjun had been rivals on the football field since their first year in school. Both were talented players, and their competition often brought out the best-and sometimes the worst-in them. When the school team was selected for the district championship, both were chosen to play. At first, their rivalry made teamwork difficult. Passes were missed, tempers (1) _____ and the coach had to step in. He reminded them that personal pride should never come before the team. Slowly, Ravi and Arjun began to (2) _____ one another's strengths instead of focusing on their differences. As trust grew, their coordination improved, and the team's performance soared. In the semi-final match, it was a pass from Ravi that helped Arjun score the winning goal. The crowd cheered not just for the win, but for the sportsmanship. What began as a clash ended in a strong (3) that taught them the value of unity, mutual (4) _____ and shared (5) _____

- A. ignore
- B. appreciate

- C. compete
- D. prove

Answer: B

Sol: The correct answer is option (b) appreciate.

Why it fits: The sentence says they began to value each other's strengths "instead of focusing on their differences." To appreciate means to recognize and value positively—perfectly matching the idea of trust and improved coordination.

Context of the passage: Guided by the coach, the rivals shift from ego-driven comparison to team-oriented recognition of each other's abilities.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) ignore — contradicted by the phrase "one another's strengths"; they're not overlooking strengths, they're acknowledging them.
- (c) compete — they were already competing; the point is a change away from rivalry toward teamwork.
- (d) prove — vague and grammatically awkward here ("began to prove one another's strengths" is ill-formed); the goal is appreciation, not demonstration.

Q.104 (3)

In the following passage, some words have been omitted. Read the passage carefully and choose the most appropriate option from the given alternatives to fill in each blank. Mark your answer for each question.

- C. lesson
- D. match

Answer: A

Sol: The correct answer is option (a) partnership.

Why it fits: "What began as a clash ended in a strong partnership ..." neatly captures their transformation from rivals to effective teammates working in harmony.

Context of the passage: Their rivalry evolves into cooperative synergy—evidenced by the decisive pass and shared credit for the win.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (b) challenge — a clash may present a challenge, but "ended in a strong challenge" is odd and doesn't convey unity.
- (c) lesson — while they did learn something, "ended in a strong lesson" is stylistically clumsy and doesn't highlight the ongoing relationship between them.
- (d) match — a clash doesn't "end in a match"; the match is an event they play, not the product of their relationship.

Q.105 (4)

In the following passage, some words have been omitted. Read the passage carefully and choose the most appropriate option from the given alternatives to fill in each blank. Mark your answer for each question.

Ravi and Arjun had been rivals on the football field since their first year in school. Both were talented players, and their competition often brought out the best-and sometimes the worst-in them. When the school team was selected for the district championship, both were chosen to play. At first, their rivalry made teamwork difficult. Passes were missed, tempers (1) _____ and the coach had to step in. He reminded them that personal pride should never come before the team. Slowly, Ravi and Arjun began to (2) _____ one another's strengths instead of focusing on their differences. As trust grew, their coordination improved, and the team's performance soared. In the semi-final match, it was a pass from Ravi that helped Arjun score the winning goal. The crowd cheered not just for the win, but for the sportsmanship. What began as a clash ended in a strong (3) that taught them the value of unity, mutual (4) _____ and shared (5) _____

- A. effort
- B. celebration
- C. respect
- D. rivalry

Answer: C

Sol: The correct answer is option (c) respect.

Why it fits: The collocation "mutual respect" is standard and aligns with themes of sportsmanship and teamwork. Unity thrives when teammates respect one another.

Context of the passage: As trust grows, they not only coordinate better but also esteem each other's abilities—hallmarks of mutual respect.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) effort — "mutual effort" is possible but less idiomatic and weaker than "mutual respect" in summarizing their interpersonal change.
- (b) celebration — "mutual celebration" isn't a typical value; it's a reaction, not a foundational principle of teamwork.
- (d) rivalry — "mutual rivalry" would return to the conflict they've overcome; it contradicts the message of unity.

Q.106 (5)

In the following passage, some words have been omitted. Read the passage carefully and choose the most appropriate option from the given alternatives to fill in each blank. Mark your answer for each question.

Ravi and Arjun had been rivals on the football field since their first year in school. Both were talented players, and their competition often brought out the best-and sometimes the worst-in them. - A. pressure
- B. fear
- C. pride
- D. conflict

Answer: C

Sol: The correct answer is option (c) pride.

Why it fits: Teams that succeed together feel shared pride—a positive, collective emotion matching the cheering crowd and the theme of sportsmanship.

Context of the passage: Their improved coordination leads to victory; naturally, they share pride in the team's achievement.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) pressure — pressure may precede performance, but "shared pressure" doesn't capture the celebratory outcome.
- (b) fear — inconsistent with the triumphant tone after winning.
- (d) conflict — they moved away from conflict; "shared conflict" contradicts the resolution and unity highlighted at the end.

Q.107 What is the central concern of the passage?

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow by selecting the most appropriate option from the given alternatives.

The rise of genetic engineering has redefined what is scientifically possible, but not necessarily what is ethically acceptable. While gene editing offers hope in treating inherited diseases and improving crop resilience, it also raises profound moral questions. Should we edit genes to enhance intelligence or physical ability? Where do we draw the line between therapy and enhancement? These questions remain unsettled. Some argue that altering the human genome for non-medical reasons may lead to a new form of inequality—where the genetically modified have social advantages over others. Others fear unintended consequences: once a gene is changed, its effects may ripple through generations. Science often moves faster than legislation, leaving ethical frameworks lagging behind. True progress lies not in what we can do, but in what we choose to do responsibly. As with all powerful tools, genetic engineering demands caution, reflection, and a shared sense of human values.

- A. Costs of gene therapy
- B. Government control of science
- C. Ethical use of genetic engineering

D. Advances in medical devices

Answer: C

Sol: The correct answer is option (c).

The passage repeatedly contrasts what is “scientifically possible” with what is “ethically acceptable,” foregrounding questions like therapy vs. enhancement, social inequality, and long-term consequences. It closes by asserting that “True progress lies not in what we can do, but in what we choose to do responsibly,” which squarely places ethics—not techniques or costs—at the heart of the discussion. Therefore, the central concern is the ethical use of genetic engineering.

Explanation of context of passage

The author surveys gene editing’s promise (curing inherited diseases, stronger crops) but stresses unresolved moral boundaries (enhancement of intelligence/ability), potential inequality, intergenerational effects, and the fact that ethics and law lag behind rapid science. The thesis: power requires responsibility, caution, and shared values.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) Costs of gene therapy — Costs are never discussed; the debate is moral, not financial.
- (b) Government control of science — Legislation is mentioned only to note it lags behind science, not to argue for/against control.
- (d) Advances in medical devices — The topic is genetic engineering/gene editing, not devices.

Q.108 What does the author suggest about using genes to enhance traits?

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow by selecting the most appropriate option from the given alternatives.

The rise of genetic engineering has redefined what is scientifically possible, but not necessarily what is ethically acceptable. While gene editing offers hope in treating inherited diseases and improving crop resilience, it also raises profound moral questions. Should we edit genes to enhance intelligence or physical ability? Where do we draw the line between therapy and enhancement? These questions remain unsettled. Some argue that altering the human genome for non-medical reasons may lead to a new form of inequality—where the genetically modified have social advantages over others. Others fear unintended consequences: once a gene is changed, its effects may ripple through generations. Science often moves faster than legislation, leaving ethical frameworks lagging behind. True progress lies not in what we can do, but in what we choose to do responsibly. As with all powerful tools, genetic engineering demands caution, reflection, and a shared sense of human values.

- A. It improves global health
- B. It is encouraged by law
- C. It risks creating inequality
- D. It always benefits society

Answer: C

Sol: The correct answer is option (c).

The passage explicitly warns that altering the genome for non-medical reasons “may lead to a new form of inequality—where the genetically modified have social advantages over others.” This directly states the risk of stratification if enhancement is pursued.

Explanation of context of passage

Enhancement crosses a line from therapy (treating disease) to elective advantage. The author frames this as ethically fraught because it could entrench privilege and distort fairness.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) It improves global health — The text does not claim enhancement improves global health; it only notes therapeutic promise for disease.
- (b) It is encouraged by law — The passage says science moves faster than legislation; there’s no suggestion of legal encouragement.
- (d) It always benefits society — The author is cautious, highlighting risks and unsettled questions, not guaranteed benefits.

Q.109 Why are ethical frameworks struggling to keep up?

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow by selecting the most appropriate option from the given alternatives.

The rise of genetic engineering has redefined what is scientifically possible, but not necessarily what is ethically acceptable. While gene editing offers hope in treating inherited diseases and improving crop resilience, it also raises profound moral questions. Should we edit genes to enhance intelligence or physical ability? Where do we draw the line between therapy and enhancement? These questions remain unsettled. Some argue that altering the human genome for non-medical reasons may lead to a new form of inequality—where the genetically modified have social advantages over others. Others fear unintended consequences: once a gene is changed, its effects may ripple through generations. Science often moves faster than legislation, leaving ethical frameworks lagging behind. True progress lies not in what we can do, but in what we choose to do responsibly. As with all powerful tools, genetic engineering demands caution, reflection, and a shared sense of human values.

- A. Scientists disagree
- B. Public lacks interest
- C. Laws are faster than research
- D. Science progresses rapidly

Answer: D

Sol: The correct answer is option (d).

The passage states, “Science often moves faster than legislation, leaving ethical frameworks lagging behind.” The direct cause cited is the rapid pace of scientific progress.

Explanation of context of passage

Ethics and laws typically require deliberation and consensus; when breakthroughs outpace that deliberation, guidance lags, creating gray areas.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) Scientists disagree — Disagreement isn’t mentioned as the reason for lagging frameworks.
- (b) Public lacks interest — Public apathy isn’t discussed.
- (c) Laws are faster than research — The passage says the opposite: research outpaces law.

Q.110 What does the author imply about gene editing’s long-term impact?

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow by selecting the most appropriate option from the given alternatives.

The rise of genetic engineering has redefined what is scientifically possible, but not necessarily what is ethically acceptable. While gene editing offers hope in treating inherited diseases and improving crop resilience, it also raises profound moral questions. Should we edit genes to enhance intelligence or physical ability? Where do we draw the line between therapy and enhancement? These questions remain unsettled. Some argue that altering the human genome for non-medical reasons may lead to a new form of inequality—where the genetically modified have social advantages over others. Others fear unintended consequences: once a gene is changed, its effects may ripple through generations. Science often moves faster than legislation, leaving ethical frameworks lagging behind. True progress lies not in what we can do, but in what we choose to do responsibly. As with all powerful tools, genetic engineering demands caution, reflection, and a shared sense of human values.

- A. It is fully reversible
- B. It can affect future generations
- C. It has no proven results
- D. It only benefits the rich

Answer: B

Sol: The correct answer is option (b).

The passage cautions that “once a gene is changed, its effects may ripple through generations,” clearly indicating intergenerational consequences.

Explanation of context of passage

Because genetic changes can be heritable, the ethical calculus must consider not just present patients but descendants and populations, amplifying stakes and uncertainty.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) It is fully reversible — The text implies the opposite; changes may persist through generations.
- (c) It has no proven results — The passage acknowledges real promise (treating inherited diseases, crop resilience).
- (d) It only benefits the rich — Inequality is a risk discussed, but the statement “only benefits the rich” is not claimed as a fact.

Q.111 Which phrase best captures the author’s message?

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow by selecting the most appropriate option from the given alternatives.

The rise of genetic engineering has redefined what is scientifically possible, but not necessarily what is ethically acceptable. While gene editing offers hope in treating inherited diseases and improving crop resilience, it also raises profound moral questions. Should we edit genes to enhance intelligence or physical ability? Where do we draw the line between therapy and enhancement? These questions remain unsettled. Some argue that altering the human genome for non-medical reasons may lead to a new form of inequality—where the genetically modified have social advantages over others. Others fear unintended consequences: once a gene is changed, its effects may ripple through generations. Science often moves faster than legislation, leaving ethical frameworks lagging behind. True progress lies not in what we can do, but in what we choose to do responsibly. As with all powerful tools, genetic engineering demands caution, reflection, and a shared sense of human values.

- A. "Edit now, regret later"
- B. "Act fast and innovate"
- C. "Caution must guide progress"
- D. "All science is safe"

Answer: C

Sol: The correct answer is option (c).

The author emphasizes responsibility and restraint: "True progress lies not in what we can do, but in what we choose to do responsibly... genetic engineering demands caution, reflection, and a shared sense of human values." Hence, caution must guide progress (spelled "quide" in the option as given).

Explanation of context of passage

Across the passage, benefits are acknowledged, but the moral imperative is to proceed carefully, set boundaries, and align actions with shared values.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) "Edit now, regret later" — Overly slogan-like and fatalistic; the author is measured, not sensational.
- (b) "Act fast and innovate" — Contradicts the call for caution and ethical deliberation.
- (d) "All science is safe" — The author explicitly rejects this, urging caution about risks and unknowns.

Q.112 What energy source does the school use?

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow by selecting the most appropriate option from the given alternatives.

In a small village, a government school has become an example of clean energy use. The school uses solar panels to run fans, lights, and even computers. This helps the school save money on electricity bills. The saved money is used to buy books and improve classrooms. The teachers also explain to students how solar energy works and why it is good for the planet. Students learn that solar power does not cause pollution like coal or petrol. The school has also inspired nearby houses to install solar panels. This change has made the village cleaner and more aware of the environment. Even on cloudy days, the solar battery stores enough power to keep the school running. With small steps like this, more schools and homes can help protect nature and build a better future.

- A. Petrol
- B. Wind
- C. Solar
- D. Gas

Answer: C

Sol: The correct answer is option (c).

Explain the right answer: The passage clearly states that "the school uses solar panels to run fans, lights, and even computers." Solar panels capture sunlight and convert it into electricity for everyday use at the school.

Explanation of context of passage: The whole passage showcases a government school as a model for clean energy adoption. By using solar energy, the school cuts electricity costs, reinvests the savings in books and classrooms, educates students about renewable energy, and inspires the village to follow suit.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) Petrol: Petrol is a fossil fuel used mainly in vehicles; the passage never mentions petrol being used to power school equipment.
- (b) Wind: Wind energy is another renewable source, but the passage specifically mentions solar panels, not wind turbines.
- (d) Gas: Gas (LPG/natural gas) is not cited; the text focuses only on solar electricity generated by panels.

Q.113 What does the school do with saved electricity money?

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow by selecting the most appropriate option from the given alternatives.

In a small village, a government school has become an example of clean energy use. The school uses solar panels to run fans, lights, and even computers. This helps the school save money on electricity bills. The saved money is used to buy books and improve classrooms. The teachers also explain to students how solar energy works and why it is good for the planet. Students learn that solar power does not cause pollution like coal or petrol. The school has also inspired nearby houses to install solar panels. This change has made the village cleaner and more aware of the environment. Even on cloudy days, the solar battery stores enough power to keep the school running. With small steps like this, more schools and homes can help protect nature and build a better future.

- A. Build a playground
- B. Buy food
- C. Buy books and improve classrooms
- D. Hire more teachers

Answer: C

Sol: The correct answer is option (c).

Explain the right answer: The passage explicitly says: "This helps the school save money on electricity bills. The saved money is used to buy books and improve classrooms." So the savings are channeled directly into academic resources and learning spaces.

Explanation of context of passage: By switching to solar, the school reduces recurring costs and reinvests those savings to enhance learning quality—purchasing books and upgrading classrooms aligns with the school's educational mission and shows a sustainable feedback loop.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) Build a playground: Not mentioned anywhere; the text specifies books and classroom improvement.
- (b) Buy food: The passage does not refer to meal programs or food purchases.
- (d) Hire more teachers: Staffing changes are not discussed; only resources (books/classrooms) are highlighted.

Q.114 Why is solar energy better than coal?

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow by selecting the most appropriate option from the given alternatives.

In a small village, a government school has become an example of clean energy use. The school uses solar panels to run fans, lights, and even computers. This helps the school save money on electricity bills. The saved money is used to buy books and improve classrooms. The teachers also explain to students how solar energy works and why it is good for the planet. Students learn that solar power does not cause pollution like coal or petrol. The school has also inspired nearby houses to install solar panels. This change has made the village cleaner and more aware of the environment. Even on cloudy days, the solar battery stores enough power to keep the school running. With small steps like this, more schools and homes can help protect nature and build a better future.

- A. It is cheaper to burn
- B. It does not cause pollution
- C. It is easier to store
- D. It is available in bottles

Answer: B

Sol: The correct answer is option (b).

Explain the right answer: The passage teaches students that "solar power does not cause pollution like coal or petrol." Coal combustion produces smoke and harmful emissions, while solar electricity generation from panels is clean at the point of use.

Explanation of context of passage: A key theme is environmental awareness—students learn how clean energy helps protect nature. Solar aligns with the village's shift toward a cleaner environment and a better future.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) It is cheaper to burn: Solar isn't "burned"; coal is. The text does not compare fuel-burning costs—only pollution.
- (c) It is easier to store: The passage mentions a battery for storage but does not compare the ease of storing solar vs. coal.
- (d) It is available in bottles: Electricity from solar cannot be bottled; this is factually incorrect and not in the passage.

Q.115 What did the school inspire villagers to do?

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow by selecting the most appropriate option from the given alternatives.

In a small village, a government school has become an example of clean energy use. The school uses solar panels to run fans, lights, and even computers. This helps the school save money on electricity bills. The saved money is used to buy books and improve classrooms. The teachers also explain to students how solar energy works and why it is good for the planet. Students learn that solar power does not cause pollution like coal or petrol. The school has also inspired nearby houses to install solar panels. This change has made the village cleaner and more aware of the environment. Even on cloudy days, the solar battery stores enough power to keep the school running. With small steps like this, more schools and homes can help protect nature and build a better future.

- A. Use less water
- B. Buy new uniforms
- C. Install solar panels
- D. Visit the school more

Answer: C

Sol: The correct answer is option (c).

Explain the right answer: The passage says, "The school has also inspired nearby houses to install solar panels." This shows a community ripple effect where households adopt the same clean-energy practice.

Explanation of context of passage: The school acts as a role model. Its success with solar leads to wider adoption, making the village cleaner and more environmentally conscious—amplifying the school's impact beyond its campus.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) Use less water: Water conservation is not mentioned in the passage.
- (b) Buy new uniforms: Uniform purchases are unrelated to energy use and are not discussed.
- (d) Visit the school more: The text doesn't mention increased visits; the concrete action is installing solar panels.

Q.116 What helps the school on cloudy days?

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow by selecting the most appropriate option from the given alternatives.

In a small village, a government school has become an example of clean energy use. The school uses solar panels to run fans, lights, and even computers. This helps the school save money on electricity bills. The saved money is used to buy books and improve classrooms. The teachers also explain to students how solar energy works and why it is good for the planet. Students learn that solar power does not cause pollution like coal or petrol. The school has also inspired nearby houses to install solar panels. This change has made the village cleaner and more aware of the environment. Even on cloudy days, the solar battery stores enough power to keep the school running. With small steps like this, more schools and homes can help protect nature and build a better future.

- A. Electricity from the city
- B. Fans from other schools
- C. Solar batteries
- D. Teachers' phones

Answer: C

Sol: The correct answer is option (c).

Explain the right answer: The passage clearly notes, "Even on cloudy days, the solar battery stores enough power to keep the school running." Batteries store surplus solar energy generated during sunnier periods, ensuring uninterrupted power.

Explanation of context of passage: Reliability is a common concern with renewables. The text addresses it by highlighting battery storage, which maintains power for fans, lights, and computers even when sunlight is weak—supporting continuous learning.

Other options are incorrect because:

- (a) Electricity from the city: The passage does not say the school relies on grid supply during cloudy days; it credits the solar battery.
- (b) Fans from other schools: Fans are appliances, not power sources; borrowing fans wouldn't solve a power shortage.
- (d) Teachers' phones: Phones cannot power school infrastructure; the text never suggests using mobile devices as energy sources.

Q.117 Choose the part of the sentence that contains an error:

He has been living in Chennai since five years.

- A. No error
- B. He has been living
- C. since five years
- D. in Chennai

Answer: C

Sol: Option (c) contains an error.

Detailed explanation:

- With a period of time (e.g., five years), use for, not since. Since is used with a point in time (e.g., since 2020, since Monday, since 5 p.m.).
- Moreover, actions that began in the past and continue to the present normally take the present perfect (continuous), not simple present continuous for duration with since/for.
- Corrected sentence: He has been living in Chennai for five years.
- Grammatical rule used:
- Since + point in time / For + period of time.
- Present Perfect Continuous: has/have + been + V-ing to indicate an action that started in the past and is still continuing.
- Example: She has been working here since 2019. / They have been studying for three hours.
- Information booster:
- With stative verbs (know, believe, love), prefer present perfect simple: I have known him for ten years.
- Since can also be a conjunction meaning "because": Since it's raining, we'll stay in. Here it doesn't denote time.

Q.118 Select the most appropriate homonym.

This case calls for immediate action.

- A. Legal matter
- B. Suitcase
- C. Example
- D. Scenario

Answer: A

Sol: The correct one-word sense (homonym) intended is (a) Legal matter.

Explanation: In formal/official contexts, case commonly denotes a legal or official matter under consideration that demands steps or remedies—hence "calls for immediate action." (legal case = मुकदमा/मामला) The sentence implies urgency in dealing with a matter on record, which aligns best with the legal/official sense.

Example: The case was listed urgently because it called for immediate action from the authorities.

Meanings of the other options:

- (b) Suitcase: A portable container for clothes, luggage. (सूटकेस/सामान रखने का बक्सा)
- (c) Example: An instance used to illustrate a rule; not the intended sense here. (उदाहरण)
- (d) Scenario: A hypothetical/possible situation or storyline; broader and less formal than the official/legal nuance suggested by case. (परिदृश्य/स्थिति)

Q.119 Select the correct passive form of the given sentence.

"They have discussed the issue already."

- A. The issue was discussed by them.
- B. The issue has been discussed already by them.
- C. The issue discusses by them.
- D. The issue had been discussed.

Answer: B

Sol: The correct passive voice of the given sentence is (b).

Rules of conversion (Present Perfect Active → Passive):

- Active Voice Structure: Subject + have/has + V<sub>3</sub> + Object.
- Passive Voice Structure: Object + have/has been + V<sub>3</sub> (+ by + Agent [optional]).
- Applying the rule: They (S) have discussed (V) the issue (O) already (Adv.).
- → Passive: The issue has been discussed already (by them).
- Adverb placement is natural as has been discussed already; an equally acceptable variant is The issue has already been discussed.
- Structure:
- Active: They have discussed the issue.
- Passive: The issue has been discussed (by them).

Q.120 Which of the following sentences is grammatically correct?

- A. He went to college in a train.
- B. He went to college with a train.
- C. He went to college by a train.
- D. He went to college on a train.

Answer: D

Sol: The correct sentence is option (d) He went to college on a train.

Explanation: With public transport, we commonly use “on” to indicate the specific vehicle we are travelling in: on a bus/train/plane. We also use “by” to express the general means of travel without an article: by train/bus/air. Hence, “on a train” is correct here, while “by a train” is incorrect because “by” should not take an article in this usage.

Grammatical rule used:

- Prepositions with transport:
- by + mode (no article): by train, by bus, by air.
- on + the/a + vehicle: on the bus, on a train, on the plane.
- in + small/private vehicles: in a car/taxi/cab.
- Example: I go to work by train, but today I'm on a train heading to Delhi.
- Information booster / exceptions: We say “on foot”, not by foot; and with bicycles both on a bicycle and by bicycle are accepted depending on focus (specific vs. means).
- Why the other options are wrong:
- (a) in a train — unnatural with large public transport; we prefer on.
- (b) with a train — with denotes accompaniment, not means of transport.
- (c) by a train — article misuse; should be by train (no article).

Q.121 Choose the antonym of 'scrupulous':

- A. Principled
- B. Ethical
- C. Careless
- D. Dishonest

Answer: D

Sol: The correct antonym of the given word is (d) Dishonest.

Given word: scrupulous — extremely careful to do what is right; very attentive to details and moral correctness (ईमानदार, अत्यंत सावधान/सूक्ष्मता रखने वाला). In ethics, a scrupulous person avoids even small wrongs; in work, they are meticulous.

Example: “A scrupulous auditor double-checks every figure and never bends the rules.”

Correct answer word: dishonest — not truthful or trustworthy; willing to cheat or lie (बेईमान). This directly opposes the moral sense of scrupulous.

Example: “He was fired for dishonest practices in handling client funds.”

Synonyms (scrupulous): meticulous, conscientious, principled, punctilious.

Antonyms (scrupulous): dishonest, unscrupulous, negligent, careless.

Meanings of all the other given options:

- (a) Principled: acting according to strong moral rules (सिद्धांतनिष्ठ).
- (b) Ethical: morally right; conforming to accepted standards (नैतिक).
- (c) Careless: not giving sufficient attention; negligent (लापरवाह) — opposite of the “meticulous” sense, but the best direct antonym in the moral sense is dishonest.

Q.122 Select the most appropriate option to improve the bold part of the sentence.

I wish I am taller.

- A. were taller
- B. was taller
- C. would be taller
- D. could be taller

Answer: A

Sol: The correct substitution of the highlighted words is (a) were taller.

Explanation: After wish (expressing an unreal/contrary-to-fact present situation), we use the past subjunctive: wish + subject + were for all persons. The speaker is not taller now, and is imagining a different present state; hence I wish I were taller.

Grammatical rule used:

- Wish + simple past → unreal present: I wish I were rich.
- Wish + past perfect → unreal past: I wish I had studied harder.
- Wish + would → annoyance/volition about someone/something else's behavior: I wish he would listen.
- Example: I wish she were here. (not was)

Why other options are incorrect:

- (b) was taller: In formal/standard English, the subjunctive “were” is preferred with I/he/she/it after wish to indicate unreality.
- (c) would be taller: Wish + would is for someone else's willingness/change, not one's current state.
- (d) could be taller: Could suggests ability/possibility, not the standard unreal present form after wish.

Information booster (Subjunctive):

Common fixed uses: If I were you..., I wish it were possible.

Q.123 Choose the part of the sentence that contains an error:

She insisted to accompany me.

- A. to accompany
- B. me
- C. No error
- D. She insisted

Answer: A

Sol: Option (a) contains an error.

Explanation: The verb insist does not take an infinitive “to + V1”. The correct pattern is insist on + V-ing or insist that + clause. Hence, we should say “She insisted on accompanying me.” The rest of the sentence is fine.

Grammatical rule used:

- insist on + gerund (V-ing): “They insisted on paying.”
- insist that + subject + (should) + base verb: “They insisted that she (should) stay.” (In formal English, “should” is optional but implied.)

Example: "The passengers insisted on getting a refund."

Information booster:

- Similar patterns: persist in + V-ing, apologize for + V-ing, object to + V-ing, succeed in + V-ing.
- Do not write insisted to go (X); write insisted on going (✓).

Q.124 Select the synonym of Candid.

- A. Frank
- B. Dubious
- C. Insincere
- D. Secretive

Answer: A

Sol: The correct synonym of the given word is (a) Frank.

Given word — Candid: Open, honest, and straightforward in speech or expression; free from bias or disguise. It may also mean unposed or natural in photography. (Hindi: साफ़-सुथरा/स्पष्टवादी/निष्कपट).

Example (given word): Her candid feedback helped me improve the report.

Correct answer word — Frank: Direct and unreserved in speech; telling the truth plainly, sometimes bluntly, without trying to hide feelings. (Hindi: बेबाक/साफ़गो/साफ़-साफ़ बोलने वाला).

Example (correct word): Be frank with me—do you like the plan or not?

Synonyms: open, forthright, straightforward, honest.

Antonyms: evasive, guarded, insincere, secretive.

Meanings of all the other given options:

- (b) Dubious: doubtful; suspicious; not to be relied upon. (Hindi: संदिग्ध/शंकास्पद).
- (c) Insincere: not expressing genuine feelings; pretending. (Hindi: कपटी/कपटपूर्ण).
- (d) Secretive: inclined to conceal feelings or intentions; not forthcoming. (Hindi: रहस्यमयी/गोपनीय स्वभाव का).

Q.125 Choose the correct direct speech form of the following sentence.

Rina told Suman to leave the city immediately.

- A. Rina said to Suman, "Leave the city immediately now."
- B. Rina said to Suman, "Please leave the city immediately."
- C. Rina said to Suman, "Leave the city immediately."
- D. Rina said to Suman, "You leave the city immediately."

Answer: C

Sol: The correct direct speech is (c) Rina said to Suman, "Leave the city immediately."

Rules & Explanation:

- Indirect imperative "told + object + to + V1" converts to direct imperative with base verb inside quotes.
- Reporting verb told becomes said to in direct.
- The command word is the bare infinitive Leave; "immediately" remains unchanged.
- No now is needed, and adding please would change the tone to a request (which the original "told" does not imply).
- Example: Indirect: He told me to sit down. → Direct: He said to me, "Sit down."
- Notes: For requests, requested/asked → "Please + V1". For prohibitions, told ... not to + V1 → "Don't + V1".

Q.126 Select the correct active form.

"Has the file been uploaded by you?"

- A. Did you upload the file?
- B. Had you uploaded the file?
- C. Are you uploading the file?
- D. Have you uploaded the file?

Answer: D

Sol: The correct active/passive voice of the given sentence is (d).

Why: The sentence is Present Perfect Passive Interrogative: Has + object + been + V<sup>3</sup> (by + agent)? Convert to Present Perfect Active Interrogative: Have/Has + subject + V<sup>3</sup> + object?

Structure:

- Passive (Q): Has the file been uploaded by you?
- Active (Ans): Have you uploaded the file?
- Rules used:
  - Keep tense (Present Perfect).
  - Swap agent → patient (you → the file).
  - Drop been and by-phrase in active.
  - Example: Has the homework been finished by the students? → Have the students finished the homework?

Q.127 What does the idiom 'Cry wolf' mean?

- A. Be truthful
- B. Lie unnecessarily
- C. Help others
- D. Raise a false alarm

Answer: D

Sol: Option (d) is the correct meaning of the given idiom.

Given Idiom: 'Cry wolf' — Meaning: To raise a false alarm repeatedly; to warn of danger when there is none, so that people stop believing you. (झूठा खतरा बताना/बार-बार झूठी चेतावनी देना).

Example: After he kept crying wolf about fake emergencies, no one believed him when a real problem occurred.

Other related idioms and their meanings:

Q.128 Select the correct active form of the given sentence.

"The cake had been decorated by the baker."

- A. The baker decorates the cake.
- B. The baker is decorating the cake.
- C. The baker had decorated the cake.
- D. The baker will decorate the cake.

Answer: C

Sol: The correct active/passive voice of the given sentence is (c).

Explain the rules (Passive → Active):

- Keep the same tense. Past Perfect passive had been + V<sup>3</sup> becomes Past Perfect active had + V<sup>3</sup>.
- Object → Subject swap: "the cake" (object) becomes the object again in active? No—here the agent "the baker" becomes the subject in active; "the cake" becomes the object.
- Remove the passive marker been and the agentive phrase by + doer.
- Structure:
- Active Voice: Subject + had + V<sup>3</sup> + Object → The baker had decorated the cake.
- Passive Voice: Object + had been + V<sup>3</sup> (+ by + Subject) → The cake had been decorated (by the baker).
- Example: The letter had been written by her → She had written the letter.
- Info booster: Intransitive verbs (no object), e.g., arrive, sleep, cannot form passive voice.

Q.129 Transform the following sentence into active voice:
Let the mobile be charged.

- A. Charge the mobile.
- B. One must charge the mobile.
- C. Someone should charge the mobile.
- D. Will you charge the mobile?

Answer: A

Sol: The correct active voice of the given sentence is (a).

Explanation: The passive imperative uses "Let + object + be + V3" to express a command/request. Its active imperative form is the base verb followed by the object. Hence, "Let the mobile be charged." → "Charge the mobile."

Grammatical rule used:

- Passive imperative: Let + object + be + V3 (e.g., Let the work be done.)
- Active imperative: Base verb + object (e.g., Do the work.)
- Example: Let the door be opened. → Open the door!
- Information booster / exceptions:
- For polite requests, English often uses "Please + base verb" (Please open the window.) or modal requests (Could you open the window?).
- Options (b), (c), (d) change modality (necessity/suggestion/question) and therefore don't preserve the imperative command as directly as (a).

Q.130 Rearrange the parts of the sentence in the correct order.
Postcolonial literature

- P. interrogates historical narratives,
- Q. while reclaiming suppressed voices
- R. and offers alternative perspectives
- S. rooted in indigenous experience,

- A. PSRQ
- B. RSPQ
- C. QRSP
- D. SRPQ

Answer: A

Sol: Option (a) PSRQ is the correct order of the given sentences.

Why this order works (grammar + logic):

- P supplies the main finite verb after the subject "Postcolonial literature": interrogates historical narratives, completing the core clause.
- S is a non-finite participial phrase (rooted in indigenous experience) that functions as an appositive modifier referring back to the subject; placing it after the main clause is acceptable as a non-restrictive insert.
- R adds a coordinated predicate with and offers alternative perspectives, pairing neatly with the first verb interrogates.
- Q is a subordinate 'while'-clause best placed at the end to convey concurrency: ... while reclaiming suppressed voices.
- Alternatives fail structurally: (b) begins with and offers (requires a previous clause), (c) starts with a while-clause without the anchoring main clause, and (d) leads with a modifier (S) without a main predicate immediately, creating awkwardness.

Q.131 Select the most appropriate option to improve the bold part of the sentence.
She said me the truth.

- A. told me
- B. said to me
- C. says me
- D. spoke to me

Answer: A

Sol: The correct substitution of the highlighted words is (a) told me.

Explanation:

- Tell takes a direct object (person): tell + someone + something → She told me the truth.
- Say does not take the person directly; we use say + to + person: She said to me "..." (but then the object is typically a that-clause or quoted speech).
- In the given sentence, the verb must carry both indirect object (me) and direct object (the truth)—hence told me is correct.

Grammatical rule used:

- tell + person + thing; say + thing (+ to + person).

Example: The teacher told us the rules. / The teacher said (to us) that the test was tomorrow.

Information booster: With reporting verbs, prefer tell when the listener is expressed without a preposition; prefer say when focusing on content (often with that or quoted speech).

Q.132 Choose the one which can be substituted for the given sentence.
A partner in crime

- A. Rival
- B. Accomplice
- C. Patriot
- D. Ally

Answer: B

Sol: The correct one-word for the given group of words is (b) Accomplice.

Explanation: An accomplice is a person who knowingly helps another in committing a crime; a partner who participates in the unlawful act. (Hindi: सह-अपराधी, अपराध में साझेदार). This word precisely captures "a partner in crime," both literally and legally.

Example: The burglar and his accomplice escaped before the police arrived.

Meanings of the given other options:

- (a) Rival: A competitor or opponent (Hindi: प्रतिद्वंद्वी).
- (c) Patriot: One who loves and supports one's country (Hindi: देशभक्त).
- (d) Ally: A friend/helper, usually in support or war; not necessarily criminal (Hindi: मित्र/सहयोगी).

Q.133 Select the synonym of Taciturn.

- A. Bold
- B. Reserved
- C. Talkative
- D. Noisy

Answer: B

Sol: The correct synonym of the given word is (b) Reserved.

Taciturn: A person who is habitually silent or sparing of speech; speaks little and is not inclined to conversation. (Hindi: अल्पभाषी, कम बोलने वाला).

Example: Despite the lively party, Arjun remained taciturn, offering only brief replies.

Reserved (correct answer): Someone who is restrained and not freely expressive in speech or emotion; inclined to keep to oneself. (Hindi: संयमी/संकोची, कम मिलनसार).

Example: In meetings, she is reserved, preferring to listen before contributing.

Synonyms: reticent, uncommunicative, laconic, tight-lipped.

Antonyms: talkative, loquacious, garrulous, voluble.

Meanings of all the other given options:

- (a) Bold: courageous; showing a willingness to take risks. (Hindi: साहसी, निडर).
- (c) Talkative: inclined to talk a lot; loquacious. (Hindi: बातूनी).
- (d) Noisy: making much noise; clamorous; loud. (Hindi: शोरगुल वाला, कोलाहलपूर्ण).

Q.134 Choose the antonym of 'ascend':

- A. Rise
- B. Soar
- C. Climb
- D. Descend

Answer: D

Sol: The correct antonym of the given word is (d) Descend.

Given word—Ascend: To go up, move upward, or climb to a higher level; it can describe physical movement or abstract rise (rank, quality). (Hindi: ऊपर चढ़ना / ऊपर उठना)

Example: The hikers began to ascend the steep mountain trail at dawn.

Correct answer word—Descend: To go down, move from a higher place to a lower one; also to decline or slope downward. (Hindi: नीचे उतरना / नीचे गिरना)

Example: As evening fell, the team descended the hill carefully.

Synonyms (of ascend): rise, mount, climb, soar.

Antonyms (of ascend): descend, drop, fall, sink.

Meanings of all the other given options:

- (a) Rise: to move upward or increase (Hindi: उठना / बढ़ना)
- (b) Soar: to fly or rise high swiftly (Hindi: ऊँचा उड़ना / तेज़ी से ऊपर जाना)
- (c) Climb: to go up by using feet and often hands (Hindi: चढ़ना)

Q.135 Select the option that expresses the given sentence in Direct Speech.

She said that she had never encountered such behavior.

- A. She said, "I never encounter such behavior."
- B. She said, "I have never encountered such behavior."
- C. She said, "I was never encountering such behavior."
- D. She said, "I had never encounter such behavior."

Answer: B

Sol: The correct direct speech is: She said, "I have never encountered such behavior."

• Rule (Indirect → Direct):

- Remove the conjunction that.
- Pronoun change: subject of reporting clause ("She") → speaker's first person I.
- Tense reversal: Past Perfect (had + V3) in reported clause → Present Perfect (have/has + V3) in direct speech (since the original statement was a present-perfect experience).
- Punctuation: add comma after the reporting verb and enclose the original words in quotation marks.
- Time/negative words (e.g., never) remain unchanged unless context demands otherwise.

• Why B is correct:

"I have never encountered" accurately reverses had never encountered to have never encountered, matching how the original speaker would express it.

• Why others are incorrect:

- A. "I never encounter" → Simple Present (habitual) ≠ Present Perfect (experience till now).
- C. "I was never encountering" → Past Continuous, wrong aspect.
- D. "I had never encountered" → Keeps Past Perfect; that would still be in indirect/backshifted form, not the original direct speech.

Q.136 Select the synonym of Vicinity.

- A. Absence
- B. Proximity
- C. Distance
- D. Departure

Answer: B

Sol: The correct synonym of the given word is (b) Proximity.

Given word — Vicinity: It means the area near or surrounding a particular place; nearness in space or relation. Hindi: आस-पास / निकटता. It conveys closeness rather than far-off distance.

Example (Vicinity): The hospital is in the vicinity of the bus stand.

Correct answer word — Proximity: It denotes the state of being near; closeness in distance, time, or relationship. Hindi: निकटता / समीपता. It squarely matches the sense of "vicinity."

Example (Proximity): The school's proximity to the park makes it ideal for sports events.

Synonyms: neighborhood, closeness, nearness, adjacency.

Antonyms: distance, remoteness, farness, isolation.

Meanings of all the other given options:

- (a) Absence: the state of not being present (अनुपस्थिति).
- (c) Distance: the amount of space between two points (दूरी).
- (d) Departure: the act of leaving (प्रस्थान).

Q.137 The meaning of the Idiom 'Make a clean breast of' is to:

- A. Argue
- B. Accuse
- C. Confess
- D. Whisper

Answer: C

Sol: Option (c) is the correct meaning of the given idiom.

Given Idiom: Make a clean breast of: It means to confess fully, revealing the whole truth without hiding anything; to admit one's mistake/culpability openly. Hindi: पूरी सच्चाई कबूल करना / साफ़-साफ़ स्वीकार करना.

Example: After hours of questioning, the player made a clean breast of his role in the foul play.

Other related idioms and their meanings:

- Come clean — to tell the truth frankly (साफ़-साफ़ सच बताना).
- Spill the beans — to reveal a secret (राज़ खोल देना).
- Eat humble pie — to admit one's mistake and apologize (गलती मानकर माफ़ी माँगना).

Q.138 Find the incorrect part of the sentence:

No less than fifty students were absent.

- A. No error
- B. were absent
- C. fifty students
- D. No less than

Answer: D

Sol: Option (d) contains an error.

Detailed explanation: With countable plural nouns (students), the correct quantifier is "fewer," not "less." Therefore, the phrase should be "No fewer than fifty students were absent." "Less" is generally used with uncountable nouns (less water, less time), whereas "fewer" is used with countable items (fewer books, fewer people).

Grammatical rule used:

- Use fewer with countable nouns; use less with uncountable mass nouns.
- Corrected sentence: No fewer than fifty students were absent.
- Example: Fewer cars were on the road today. / Less traffic was reported in the morning.
- Information booster / exceptions: In certain set phrases measuring time, money, distance, weight, percentages, "less" is common: less than 5 km, less than ₹500, less than 10%. But with straightforward countable nouns like students, use fewer.

Q.139 Select the most appropriate option to improve the bold part of the sentence.

Had I known about the delay, I will wait.

- A. would have waited
- B. will have waited
- C. would waited
- D. waited

Answer: A

Sol: The correct substitution of the highlighted words is (a) would have waited.

Explanation: This is a third conditional (unreal past condition). With Had I known (inverted past perfect = If I had known), the main clause takes would have + V<sup>3</sup>. Hence, "Had I known ..., I would have waited." "Will" is incorrect because the condition is counterfactual and refers to the past.

Grammatical rule used:

- Third conditional: If + past perfect, would/ could/ might + have + V<sup>3</sup>.
- Inversion (formal): Had + subject + past participle, omit if.
- Example: Had she left earlier, she would have caught the train.
- Information booster: After Had + subject + V<sup>3</sup>, never use will/would + V<sup>1</sup> for past hypotheticals; use would have + V<sup>3</sup>.

Q.140 Choose the correctly spelt word:

- A. Supercede
- B. Supirsede
- C. Supersede
- D. Suppercede

Answer: C

Sol: Option (c) is the correctly spelt word.

Correct spelling is: "supersede" — meaning to take the place of; to replace or supplant something/someone because of superiority or newness (स्थान लेना/प्रतिस्थापित करना). The word ultimately derives from Latin supersedere "to sit above; refrain".

Example: This new policy will supersede the earlier guidelines.

Q.141 In the following question, the first and the last parts of the sentence/passage are numbered 1 and 6. The rest of the sentence/passage is split into four parts - P, Q, R, and S. These four parts are not given in their proper order. Read the sentence/passage and find the most logical order of the parts between 1 and 6.

1. The evolution of language is deeply linked to human history.

P: Early humans used symbols to convey meaning.

Q: Writing systems emerged thousands of years later.

R: Spoken language likely developed alongside tool use.

S: Over time, languages diversified across regions.

6. Today, language continues to evolve with technology.

- A. QRSP
- B. RPQS
- C. RPSQ
- D. PRSQ

Answer: C

Sol: Option (c) is the correct order of the given sentences: R P S Q.

Why this order works (bullet explanation):

- R first: Chronological foundation — spoken language emerging with early tool use is the most primitive stage, so R logically opens the sequence after the general statement (1).
- P next: After speech, early humans progressed to symbols (gestures/marks) as proto-communication/pre-writing devices, which naturally follows the origin of speech.
- S then: With communities spreading and interacting differently, languages diversified over time; S generalizes the long historical drift after early development.
- Q last: Writing systems emerged thousands of years later — a late, well-defined milestone that smoothly precedes the modern note in sentence 6 about evolution with technology.
- The adverbials "Over time" (S) and "thousands of years later" (Q) are strong temporal signals anchoring S before Q in a long-range historical progression.

Q.142 Identify the part containing a grammatical or structural error:

The jury was divided in their opinions.

- A. No error
- B. The jury
- C. was divided

D. in their opinions

Answer: C

Sol: Option (c) contains an error.

Explanation: Collective nouns (e.g., jury, team, committee) may take singular verb/pronoun when acting as a unit, but take plural verb/pronoun when emphasizing individual members acting separately. The phrase "divided in their opinions" shows members acting individually, so the verb should be plural: "The jury were divided in their opinions." Alternatively, you can keep singular agreement throughout: "The jury was divided in its opinions." The original mixes singular verb was with plural pronoun their, causing a concord (agreement) error.

Grammatical rule used:

· Subject-verb-pronoun agreement with collective nouns:

· Unified action → singular: "The team is winning; it will celebrate."

· Separate/individual action → plural: "The team are arguing among themselves."

Example: "The committee were unable to reach a single decision because they disagreed."

Information booster:

· Be consistent: either plural verb + plural pronoun (were ... their) for divided action, or singular verb + singular pronoun (was ... its) for unified action.

· In BrE, plural with collective nouns is common for divided action; in AmE, writers often prefer singular, but must keep pronoun agreement consistent.

Q.143 Find the incorrect part of the sentence:

He has come yesterday.

- A. yesterday
- B. No error
- C. come
- D. He has come

Answer: D

Sol: Option (d) contains an error.

Explanation: Do not use the present perfect ( has/have + V3) with definite past time expressions such as yesterday, last week, two days ago. Use the simple past instead. The correct sentence is: "He came yesterday."

Grammatical rule used: Present perfect denotes a past action with present relevance/indefinite time, thus it avoids definite past markers; definite past time requires simple past.

Example:

· Incorrect: I have seen him yesterday.

· Correct: I saw him yesterday.

Information booster: Present perfect often co-occurs with just, already, yet, ever, never, recently ( I have just arrived), whereas yesterday, ago, last year typically trigger the simple past ( I arrived yesterday).

Q.144 Select the most appropriate option to fill in the blank.

The editor dispensed _____ unnecessary details.

- A. of
- B. by
- C. to
- D. With

Answer: D

Sol: The correct option to fill in the blank is (d) with.

Explanation: The phrasal verb is dispense with (meaning "to do without; omit"). So, "The editor dispensed with unnecessary details" correctly means the editor omitted them. (Hindi: dispense with = के बिना काम चलाना/हटा देना).

Example: In formal letters, we often dispense with small talk and get straight to the point.

Explain why other options are incorrect:

· (a) of: dispense of is nonstandard in this sense; it can mean "dispose of" in some rare/legalistic uses, not "omit." (Hindi: से संबंधित/का—यहाँ उपयुक्त नहीं)

· (b) by: Doesn't collocate with dispense in this meaning. (Hindi: द्वारा—यहाँ गलत)

· (c) to: With dispense, to is used when giving something: "dispense medicine to patients," which changes the meaning. (Hindi: को—अर्थ बदल जाता है)

Information booster (collocations):

· dispense with + noun = to omit/forgo: "dispense with formalities."

· dispense + object + to/for = to distribute/give: "dispense cash to beneficiaries," "dispense justice."

Q.145 In the following question, the first and the last parts of the sentence/passage are numbered 1 and 6. The rest of the sentence/passage is split into four parts - P, Q, R, and S. These four parts are not given in their proper order. Read the sentence/passage and find the most logical order of the parts between 1 and 6.

1. Plants need sunlight to grow.

P: Photosynthesis needs light.

Q: No food is made without it.

R: Leaves turn yellow without it.

S: The plant dies slowly.

6. Sunlight is very important.

- A. SPQR
- B. PSQR
- C. PQRS
- D. SQPR

Answer: C

Sol: Option (c) is the correct order of the given sentences.

The correct sequence is 1 - P - Q - R - S - 6.

- (1) sets the context: plants require sunlight for growth.
- P explains the reason scientifically: photosynthesis needs light.
- Q logically follows because it refers to photosynthesis: without it (photosynthesis/light), no food is made.
- R comes next as a visible effect of no food/sunlight: leaves begin to turn yellow.
- S is the final consequence: the plant dies slowly.
- (6) works as the concluding statement summarizing the whole idea: sunlight is very important.

Q.146 Choose the one which can be substituted for the given sentence.

The act of killing one's brother

- A. Fratricide

- B. Suicide
- C. Patricide
- D. Homicide

Answer: A

Sol: The correct one-word for the given group of words is (a) Fratricide.

Explain the correct answer (with Hindi meaning): Fratricide means the act of killing one's own brother. It comes from Latin frater (brother) + -cide (killing). (Hindi: भ्रातृहत्या / भाई की हत्या)

Example: The ancient tale speaks of a tragic fratricide that tore the kingdom apart.

Meanings of the given other options:

- (b) Suicide: the act of killing oneself (Hindi: आत्महत्या)
- (c) Patricide: the act of killing one's father (Hindi: पितृहत्या)
- (d) Homicide: the killing of a human being (Hindi: मानवहत्या/हत्या)

Q.147 Select the most appropriate option to fill in the blank.

He was accused _____ theft.

- A. with
- B. by
- C. of
- D. for

Answer: C

Sol: The correct option to fill in the blank is (c) of.

Explanation: The fixed prepositional verb is accuse of something/someone. In passive voice, we keep the preposition: "be accused of + noun/gerund." (accuse = आरोप लगाना). So, "He was accused of theft." is idiomatic and grammatically correct.

Example: "Several officials were accused of taking bribes."

Why other options are incorrect:

- (a) with: "charge with" is used (e.g., charged with theft), not accused with (X). (के साथ)
- (b) by: "accused by" introduces the agent (e.g., accused by the police), not the offence (द्वारा).
- (d) for: usually marks reason/purpose, not the object of accuse (के लिए).

Information booster:

- accuse of, suspect of, convict of, charge with, blame for:
- "She was blamed for the delay," but "She was accused of fraud," "He was charged with murder."

Q.148 Find the misspelt word.

- A. Idiosyncrasy
- B. incredible
- C. Idiosyncrasy
- D. guidance

Answer: A

Sol: Option (a) is incorrectly spelled word.

Correct spelling is: "Idiosyncrasy" — a peculiar or individual trait; a distinctive habit, mannerism, or characteristic of a person/thing. (Hindi: व्यक्तिगत विशेषता/विलक्षणता)

Example: Every great writer has at least one idiosyncrasy that sets their style apart.

Parts of speech (of the misspelt word's correct form): Idiosyncrasy — Noun; plural: idiosyncrasies. Related forms: idiosyncratic (adjective), idiosyncratically (adverb).

Q.149 Select the most appropriate option to fill in the blank.

I am not interested _____ politics.

- A. on
- B. at
- C. in
- D. of

Answer: C

Sol: The correct option to fill in the blank is (c) in.

Explanation: The adjective interested takes the preposition in to show the topic of interest (or lack of it): interested in + noun/gerund. Hence, "interested in politics" is the correct collocation. (Hindi: interested in = में रुचि होना; यहाँ रुचि नहीं है)

Example: She is interested in classical music, but not in pop.

Why other options are incorrect:

- (a) on: Used for surfaces or certain topics after verbs like "agree on," not after interested. (Hindi: पर — यहाँ अनुपयुक्त)
- (b) at: Used for locations/times/skill level (good at), not with interested. (Hindi: पर/में — पर सही संयोजन नहीं)
- (d) of: Possession/partitives (a cup of tea), not after interested. (Hindi: का/की/के — अनुचित)

Information booster (collocations):

- interested in + noun/gerund: interested in politics/reading/science.
- With people: interested in someone = romantically/curiously concerned.

Q.150 Select the antonym of 'Arraign'.

- A. Justify
- B. Gluttonous
- C. Hungry
- D. Selfish

Answer: A

Sol: The correct antonym of the given word is (a) Justify.

Given word — Arraign: To call someone before a court to answer a criminal charge; also, to accuse or criticize officially. (Hindi: अभियोग लगाना/अदालत में पेश करना; दोषारोपण करना)

Example (given word): The activist was arraigned on charges of unlawful assembly.

Correct answer word — Justify: To show or prove to be right; to defend or vindicate an action/person. (Hindi: औचित्य सिद्ध करना/जस्टिफ़ाई करना)

Example (correct answer): The data justifies the decision to expand the program.

Synonyms (of arraign): charge, indict, accuse, prosecute.

Antonyms (of arraign): exonerate, acquit, justify, absolve.

Meanings of all the other given options:

- (b) Gluttonous: Excessively greedy for food. (Hindi: अतिभोजी/पेटू)
- (c) Hungry: Feeling the need for food. (Hindi: भूखा)
- (d) Selfish: Concerned chiefly with one's own advantage. (Hindi: स्वार्थी)

Q.151 Select the correct active form.
"By whom is this rule obeyed?"

- A. Who is obeying this rule?
- B. Who does obey this rule?
- C. Who obeys this rule?
- D. Who has obeyed this rule?

Answer: C

Sol: The correct active voice is (c) Who obeys this rule?

Rules & Explanation:

- Passive interrogative (Present Simple): is/are + object + V3 + by + agent?
- Convert to active by making the agent the subject and using Present Simple: Subject + V1(s) + object?
- "By whom" → Who (subject). Since who is third-person singular, the verb takes -s: obeys.
- Tense remains Present Simple; meaning stays identical.
- Structure:
- Passive: By whom is this rule obeyed?
- Active: Who obeys this rule?
- Why others are wrong:
- (a) Who is obeying ... ? → Present Continuous, tense shift.
- (b) Who does obey ... ? → Emphatic/contrastive use; not the neutral equivalent.
- (d) Who has obeyed ... ? → Present Perfect, tense shift.

Q.152 Select the most appropriate option to improve the bold part of the sentence.
The price of petrol has increased yesterday.

- A. rose yesterday
- B. Increased yesterday
- C. has been increased yesterday
- D. risen yesterday

Answer: B

Sol: The most appropriate option to improve the bold part of the sentence is (b) "increased yesterday".

Explanation:

The original sentence uses the present perfect tense ("has increased"), which is typically used for actions that started in the past and continue into the present. However, the phrase "yesterday" specifies a definite past time. The simple past tense ("increased") is the correct tense to use when referring to an event that happened on a specific day like yesterday.

Why other options are incorrect:

· (a) rose yesterday:

While "rose" is the past tense of "rise," it generally refers to ascending or moving upwards physically. In the context of prices, "increased" is the more precise word.

· (c) has been increased yesterday:

This option uses the present perfect passive tense ("has been increased"). This tense implies that the price was increased by someone else, which is not necessarily implied in the original sentence.

Furthermore, using the passive voice with a specific past time like "yesterday" is awkward.

· (d) risen yesterday:

Similar to (a), "risen" is the past tense of "rise" and is not the most appropriate word for price increases.

Q.153 Choose the antonym of 'liberation':

- A. Captivity
- B. Independence
- C. Emancipation
- D. Freedom

Answer: A

Sol: The correct antonym of the given word is (a) Captivity.

Given word — Liberation: Liberation means the act or process of being set free from restriction, control, or oppression; release from bondage or limitation. (Hindi: मुक्ति/स्वाधीनता — बंधन या दमन से आज़ाद करना या होना।)

Example: The movement fought for the liberation of oppressed communities.

Correct answer word — Captivity: Captivity means the state of being confined or imprisoned; lack of freedom to move or act. (Hindi: कैद/बंदी अवस्था)

Example: The birds were kept in captivity until they were released into the wild.

Synonyms (for liberation): freedom, emancipation, release, deliverance.

Antonyms (for liberation): captivity, imprisonment, enslavement, subjugation.

Meanings of all the other given options:

· (b) Independence: Freedom from control or influence of others; self-rule. (Hindi: स्वतंत्रता)

· (c) Emancipation: The act of setting someone free from legal, social, or political restrictions; liberation. (Hindi: मुक्ति/दासता से मुक्ति)

· (d) Freedom: The power or right to act, speak, or think without hindrance; state of being free. (Hindi: आज़ादी/स्वतंत्रता)

Q.154 Which of these words is spelled wrongly?

- A. Resplendent
- B. Idiosyncrasy
- C. Dichotomy
- D. Vernacular

Answer: B

Sol: Option (b) is incorrectly spelled word.

Correct spelling is: "Idiosyncrasy" — a mode of behavior or a characteristic peculiar to an individual; a distinctive habit or quirk. (Hindi: व्यक्तिगत विशेषता/विलक्षणता, खास आदत)

Example: Her habit of humming while thinking is an idiosyncrasy that her friends find endearing.

Meanings of all the given options:

· (a) Resplendent: very bright and impressive; shining brilliantly (Hindi: दीप्तिमान, उज्ज्वल).

· (b) Idiosyncrasy: wrong spelling of Idiosyncrasy.

· (c) Dichotomy: a division or contrast between two things that are represented as being entirely different (Hindi: द्विभाजन, द्वैत).

· (d) Vernacular: the language or dialect spoken by the ordinary people of a region (Hindi: स्थानीय/जनभाषा).

Q.155 What does the idiom 'Jump the gun' mean?

- A. Succeed quickly
- B. Act prematurely
- C. Wait patiently
- D. Fire a gun

Answer: B

Sol: Option (b) is the correct meaning of the given idiom.

Given Idiom: Jump the gun — to do something too soon, before the proper time or before all conditions are ready. (Hindi: समय से पहले/जल्दबाज़ी में कदम उठाना)

Example: Publishing the results before the official announcement would be jumping the gun.

Other related idioms and their meanings:

- Put the cart before the horse — to reverse the logical order of things.
- Shoot from the hip — to speak/act rashly without planning.
- Count your chickens before they hatch — to assume success too early.

Q.156 Which of the following sentences is grammatically correct?

- A. When we reached the station, the train have already left.
- B. When we reached the station, the train has already left.
- C. When we reached the station, the train had already left.
- D. When we reached the station, the train already left.

Answer: C

Sol: The correct sentence is (c).

Explanation: We narrate two past actions where one happened before the other. Use Past Perfect (had + V3) for the earlier action and Simple Past for the later one: "When we reached (Simple Past), the train had already left (Past Perfect)." The adverb already fits naturally before the past participle.

Grammatical rule used:

- Past Perfect shows an action completed before another past action/time point.
- Structure: had + past participle (V3) for the earlier past; V2 for the later past action.

Example: "By the time the movie started, we had found our seats."

Why other options are incorrect:

- (a) have already left — Present Perfect after a past time clause is wrong.
- (b) has already left — Present Perfect with a past reference ("reached") is incorrect.
- (d) already left — Simple Past in both clauses can be ambiguous; with "when," Past Perfect is preferred to show the prior action clearly.

Q.157 Select the option that expresses the given sentence in Direct to Indirect Speech.

She said, "Has he left already?"

- A. She asked if he had left already.
- B. She asked had he left already.
- C. She asked whether had he left already.
- D. She said if he had left already.

Answer: A

Sol: The correct indirect speech is (a).

Rules of conversion (Direct Question → Indirect):

1. Reporting verb said → asked for questions.
2. Yes/No questions take if/whether (no inversion after them).
3. Backshift the tense when the reporting verb is past: Present Perfect (has left) → Past Perfect (had left).
4. Remove question order and question mark; use statement order (Subject + Verb).
5. Application: She said, "Has he left already?" → She asked if he had left already.

6. Why others are wrong:

- (b) keeps inversion (had he left) after asked if is omitted—ungrammatical in reported questions.
  - (c) mixes whether with inversion; reported clause must be in statement order.
  - (d) keeps said (not appropriate for a question) and also misuses if with said.
- Information booster:
- No backshift is needed if the reporting verb is present (She asks, "Has he left?" → She asks if he has left.).
  - Both if and whether are acceptable in yes/no reported questions; if is more common in everyday use.

Q.158 Choose the antonym of superficial.

- A. Shallow
- B. Surface
- C. External
- D. Deep

Answer: D

Sol:

- The word "superficial" means existing or occurring at or on the surface; not thorough, deep, or complete; shallow.
- Hindi meaning: ऊपरी / सतही
- Example: His analysis of the issue was very superficial and ignored the deeper causes.
- Antonym of superficial should be a word that expresses the opposite idea — something serious, thorough, and deep-rooted.
- The word "deep" means extending far down from the surface; profound; thorough.
- Hindi meaning: गहरा / गहन
- Example: She has a deep understanding of literature.
- Therefore, "deep" is the correct antonym.

Synonyms of superficial:

- Shallow (ऊपरी, सतही)
- Surface (सतह से संबंधित)
- External (बाहरी, बाह्य)

Antonyms of superficial:

- Deep (गहरा, गहन)
- Profound (गहन, गंभीर)
- Thorough (संपूर्ण, पूरी तरह से)
- Serious (गंभीर)

Option-wise Explanation:

- (a) Shallow – Wrong. It is actually a synonym of superficial.
- (b) Surface – Wrong. Closely related to superficial; not opposite.
- (c) External – Wrong. Again similar to superficial in meaning, not antonym.
- (d) Deep – Correct. It is the opposite of superficial.

Q.159 In the following question, the first and the last parts of the sentence/passage are numbered 1 and 6...

1. Social media influences public opinion.
- P: Posts can go viral within minutes.
- Q: It helps in sharing views widely.
- R: However, misinformation also spreads fast.
- S: This can lead to confusion or panic.
6. So, digital literacy is essential today.

- A. QPRS
- B. PRQS
- C. QPSR

D. QSRP

Answer: A

Sol: Option (a) QPRS is the correct order of the given sentences.

- Q follows 1 smoothly: "It" = Social media; function stated: "sharing views widely."
- P provides a specific example of Q: virality of posts explains wide sharing.
- R adds a contrast marker "However," shifting to the negative aspect—misinformation.
- S logically states the consequence of R: confusion/panic.
- With pros + cons + result established, sentence 6 concludes with a remedial takeaway: digital literacy.

Q.160 Select the most appropriate option to fill in the blank.

Ramesh is senior _____ me in service.

- A. to
- B. from
- C. of
- D. with

Answer: A

Sol: The correct option to fill in the blank is (a) to.

Explanation: With adjectives denoting rank or comparison— senior, junior, superior, inferior, prior, anterior, posterior, preferable—the preposition to is used (not than, with, from, or of). Hence,

"Ramesh is senior to me in service" is the standard idiomatic expression. (senior = वरिष्ठ)

Example: She is senior to me by three years in this organization.

Why other options are incorrect:

- (b) from: "senior from" is unidiomatic. (from = से)
- (c) of: "senior of" is wrong for comparison between persons. (of = का/की/के)
- (d) with: "senior with" is incorrect; with does not express hierarchical comparison. (with = के साथ)
- Information booster (exception/tip): In exam grammar, remember this cluster: senior/junior/superior/inferior/preferable/prior/anterior/posterior + to . (Do not use than here.)

Q.161 Select the most appropriate option to fill in the blank.

There is _____ apple on the table.

- A. one
- B. an
- C. a
- D. the

Answer: B

Sol: The correct option to fill in the blank is (b) an.

Explanation: We use "an" before words that begin with a vowel sound. Apple starts with the vowel sound /æ/, so "an apple" is the natural, idiomatic choice. (Hindi: an — अनिश्चित उपपद/आर्टिकल; apple — सेब.)

Example: Please give me an apple from the basket.

Why the other options are incorrect:

- (a) one — Grammatically possible ( There is one apple...), but it changes the meaning to an exact count rather than introducing a nonspecific single item; the test focuses on article usage with vowel sounds.
- (c) a — Not used before vowel sounds; a apple is incorrect.
- (d) the — Definite article; used when the apple is already known/specified, which isn't indicated here.

Q.162 What does the idiom 'Throw in the towel' mean?

- A. Boast
- B. Give up
- C. Work harder
- D. Start afresh

Answer: B

Sol: Option (b) is the correct meaning of the given idiom.

Given Idiom: Throw in the towel — to concede defeat; to stop trying because further effort seems futile. (Hindi: हार मान लेना/प्रयास छोड़ देना )

Example: After three failed attempts to fix the code, the team decided to throw in the towel and rewrite the module from scratch.

Other related idioms and their meanings:

- Wave the white flag — to surrender or admit defeat.
- Cry uncle — to give up under pressure.
- Call it a day — to stop doing something, often because enough has been done.
- Quit while you're ahead — stop before things turn worse.

Q.163 In the following question, the first and the last parts of the sentence/passage are numbered 1 and 6. The rest of the sentence/passage is split into four parts - P, Q, R, and S. These four parts are not given in their proper order. Read the sentence/passage and find the most logical order of the parts between 1 and 6.

1. Human memory is a complex neurological process.

P: Short-term memory stores data temporarily for immediate use.

Q: Information can be transferred to long-term memory with repetition.

R: The brain filters and encodes information efficiently.

S: Long-term memory holds information for an extended period.

6. Understanding memory helps improve learning strategies.

- A. RQPS
- B. PSRQ
- C. RPSQ
- D. PRSQ

Answer: C

Sol: Option (c) RPSQ is the correct order of the given sentences.

- R logically follows the opener by explaining the mechanism ( filters and encodes) of the "complex neurological process."
- P then introduces the first type of memory— short-term—which naturally comes before long-term when describing stages.
- S complements P by presenting the second type, long-term memory, creating a clear short-term → long-term progression.
- Q fits after S because it explicitly refers to transfer to long-term memory (already introduced in S) and adds the condition "with repetition."
- The concluding line 6 sums up the practical takeaway (learning strategies), so R→P→S→Q provides a coherent flow from mechanism → types → process of transfer → application.

Q.164 Choose the antonym of 'approve':

- A. Reject
- B. Sanction
- C. Endorse
- D. Certify

Answer: A

Sol: The correct antonym of the given word is (a) Reject.

Given word — “approve”: to accept, agree to, or officially sanction something; to think well of; to give permission or consent. (Hindi: स्वीकृत/मंजूर करना, अनुमोदन करना)

Example (approve): The committee approved the new curriculum after a thorough review.

Correct answer word — “reject”: to refuse to accept, consider, or approve; to dismiss as inadequate or unacceptable. (Hindi: अस्वीकार करना, ठुकराना)

Example (reject): The editor rejected the article due to factual inaccuracies.

Synonyms (approve): accept, sanction, endorse, authorize.

Antonyms (approve): reject, disapprove, veto, decline.

Meanings of the other options:

- (b) Sanction: official approval or permission; to approve/authorize. (Hindi: अनुमोदन/स्वीकृति; ध्यान दें: noun रूप में “दंड” भी अर्थ हो सकता है)
- (c) Endorse: to support or give one’s approval to, often publicly. (Hindi: समर्थन/अनुमोदन करना)
- (d) Certify: to attest or confirm formally; to officially recognize as true/qualified. (Hindi: प्रमाणित करना)

Q.165 Choose the correct one-word substitution for:

“A symbol that serves as an emblem of a group of people”

- A. Toker
- B. Totem
- C. Banner
- D. Trophy

Answer: B

Sol: The correct one-word for the given group of words is (b) Totem.

A totem is a natural object, animal, or symbol revered as an emblem of a clan or group, representing identity and spiritual significance. (Hindi: कुल-चिह्न / गोत्र-चिह्न).

Example: The eagle served as the tribe’s totem, symbolizing strength and freedom.

Meanings of the given other options:

- (a) Toker: Slang for a person who smokes cannabis; not a symbol. (Hindi: गाँजा पीने वाला (स्लैंग))
- (c) Banner: A long strip of cloth bearing a slogan or emblem; a flag/standard, not inherently the emblematic symbol of a clan. (Hindi: पताका/ध्वज)
- (d) Trophy: A cup or object awarded as a prize for victory; award. (Hindi: ट्रॉफी/पुरस्कार)

Q.166 Choose the correct option to complete the sentence.

The carpenter replaced the broken _____ in the window.

- A. plain
- B. peyn
- C. pain
- D. pane

Answer: D

Sol: The correct option to fill in the blank is (d) pane.

Explanation: Pane means a single sheet of glass in a window or door—exactly what a carpenter would replace. (Hindi: काँच की पट्टी/परत).

Example: The storm shattered one pane of the French window.

Why other options are incorrect:

- (a) plain: simple/without decoration; not a glass sheet. (Hindi: सादा/समतल).
- (b) peyn: non-standard/incorrect spelling; not an English word.
- (c) pain: physical or emotional suffering; irrelevant here. (Hindi: दर्द).

Q.167 Select the correct spelling of a word related to bees.

- A. Apiary
- B. Apiery
- C. Apairy
- D. Apeary

Answer: A

Sol: Option (a) is the correctly spelt word.

Correct spelling is: “Apiary” — a place where beehives are kept; a location used for beekeeping to manage colonies, harvest honey, and study bees. (Hindi: मधुमक्खी पालन स्थल/छत्तों का स्थान)

Example: The farmer maintains an apiary near the mustard fields.

Meanings of all the given options:

- (a) Apiary: A site containing beehives for breeding bees and producing honey. (Hindi: मधुमक्खी पालन स्थल)
- (b) Apiery: Nonstandard/misspelling of apiary; not accepted in standard usage. (कोई मान्य अर्थ नहीं; apiary की गलत वर्तनी)
- (c) Apairy: Incorrect spelling of apiary. (गलत वर्तनी)
- (d) Apeary: Incorrect spelling of apiary. (गलत वर्तनी)

Q.168 Convert the sentence provided below from its passive voice structure to an active voice structure:

The documents are signed by the director before submission.

- A. The documents are being signed by the director before submission.
- B. The director signs the documents before submission.
- C. The director has signed the documents before submission.
- D. The director signed the documents before submission.

Answer: B

Sol: The correct active/passive voice of the given sentence is (b) The director signs the documents before submission.

Explain the rules of conversion (detailed):

- Identify tense in passive: are signed = Simple Present Passive ( am/is/are + V3).
- In passive, object ("the documents") is fronted, and the agent appears in a by-phrase ("by the director").
- To convert to active, make the agent the subject ( the director), keep the tense as Simple Present, and use V1(s/es) with the correct subject-verb agreement: signs.
- Retain the adverbial phrase before submission unchanged.

Structure:

- Active Voice: Subject + V1(s/es) + Object + (Adverbials)
- Passive Voice: Object + am/is/are + V3 + (by + Subject) + (Adverbials)

Example:

- Passive: The forms are checked by the manager every evening.
- Active: The manager checks the forms every evening.

Information booster:

- Use Simple Present for routines/habits/general truths.
- If the passive shows am/is/are + V3, the active usually takes V1(s/es) with the original agent as subject.

Q.169 What does the idiom 'To beat a dead horse' mean?

- A. Be overconfident
- B. Win a competition
- C. Encourage others
- D. Waste time on a hopeless issue

Answer: D

Sol: Option (d) is the correct meaning of the given idiom.

Given Idiom: To beat a dead horse — to keep arguing or pushing a matter that has already been settled or is hopeless; to waste time and effort. (Hindi: व्यर्थ/निरर्थक विषय पर समय बर्बाद करना; मरे मुदे को उखाड़ना)

Example: Continuing this debate after the policy has been withdrawn is beating a dead horse.

Other related idioms and their meanings:

- Flog a dead horse — exact variant; to pursue a futile effort.
- Cry over spilt milk — lament what cannot be changed.
- Water under the bridge — past events that are no longer important.
- Barking up the wrong tree — pursuing a mistaken line of action.

Q.170 Select the most appropriate option to improve the bold part of the sentence.

The wall is decorated by posters.

- A. full of posters
- B. painted in posters
- C. decorated with posters
- D. covered in posters

Answer: C

Sol: The correct substitution of the highlighted words is (c) decorated with posters.

Explanation: The verb decorate typically takes the preposition with to indicate the material/means used: decorate something with something. In passive constructions, by normally marks the agent, not the material. Hence, "The wall is decorated with posters" is idiomatic and precise.

Grammatical rule used:

- decorate + object + with + thing used (material/instrument).
- In the passive voice, by introduces the doer/agent (e.g., The wall was decorated by the students), while with introduces the adornment (e.g., decorated with lights).
- Example: The hall was decorated with flowers for the ceremony.
- Info booster: Similarly, prefer covered with (formal) over covered in (informal) when precision is needed in exams.

Q.171 Find the incorrect part of the sentence:

The old man fell down from the stairs.

- A. fell down
- B. No error
- C. from the stairs
- D. The old man

Answer: C

Sol: Option (c) contains an error.

Detailed explanation: With stairs, the natural collocation is "fall down the stairs," not "from the stairs." The preposition down indicates movement along a vertical/hierarchical path. From typically marks origin/separation and sounds odd here.

Grammatical rule used: Use down to express movement from a higher to a lower position along something (down the hill, down the ladder, down the stairs). Use from to show separation/origin when falling off a distinct surface (fell from the balcony / fell off the chair).

Corrected sentence: The old man fell down the stairs.

Example: She slipped and fell down the stairs, but luckily was not hurt.

Information booster / exceptions:

- Fell off is used when the surface is discrete and you are no longer on it: fell off the ladder/chair.
- Fell from is used with a clear point of origin or height: fell from a great height / fell from the third-floor balcony.

Q.172 Select the most appropriate homonym.

He gave her a cold shoulder at the party.

- A. Apology
- B. Embrace
- C. Complaint
- D. Ignore

Answer: D

Sol: Option (d) is the correct meaning of the given idiom.

Given Idiom: "give someone the cold shoulder."

Meaning: To treat someone with deliberate indifference; to ignore or snub a person (जानबूझकर उपेक्षा/अनदेखी करना).

Example: After their argument, Rahul gave Neha the cold shoulder for a week.

Other related idioms and their meanings:

- Give someone the brush-off — to dismiss or reject curtly (रुखाई से टाल देना).
- Cut someone dead — to ignore someone deliberately in public (जानबूझकर अनदेखा करना).
- Freeze someone out — to exclude someone from a group or activity (अलग-थलग कर देना).
- Give someone the silent treatment — to refuse to speak as a sign of displeasure (चुप्पी साथकर दंड देना).

Q.173 Select the correct passive form of the given sentence.

"She cleaned the house yesterday."

- A. The house was being cleaned.
- B. The house has cleaned.
- C. The house is cleaned by her yesterday.
- D. The house was cleaned by her yesterday.

Answer: D

Sol: The correct active/passive voice of the given sentence is (d).

Explanation:

- Active sentence is Simple Past: Subject (She) + V<sub>2</sub> (cleaned) + Object (the house) + time (yesterday).
- Passive for simple past uses was/were + V<sub>3</sub>. Object becomes subject: The house + was cleaned; agent (by + her) optional; time adverb "yesterday" remains at end.
- Hence: The house was cleaned by her yesterday. (Final punctuation ! doesn't affect grammar.)
- Structure:
- Active voice: Subject + V<sub>2</sub> + Object + (Time)
- Passive voice: Object + was/were + V<sub>3</sub> + (by + Agent) + (Time)
- Why other options are wrong:
- (a) was being cleaned → past continuous passive; original is simple past, not continuous.
- (b) has cleaned → present perfect active and missing object/agent; also wrong voice.
- (c) is cleaned ... yesterday → present simple passive with a past time marker—tense mismatch.

Q.174 Identify the part containing a grammatical or structural error:

Hardly had he left the room when the guests have arrived.

- A. Hardly had he
- B. No error
- C. left the room
- D. when the guests have arrived

Answer: D

Sol: Option (d) contains an error.

Detailed explanation of error: With Hardly/Scarcely ... when, the standard sequence is Past Perfect in the first clause and Simple Past in the second. Here we have "Hardly had he left ... when the guests have arrived." The verb phrase "have arrived" (Present Perfect) is wrong after when indicating a definite past point. The correct form is "when the guests arrived."

Grammatical rule used:

- Structure: Hardly/Scarcely + had + subject + V3 + when + subject + V2.
- Parallel pair: No sooner + had + S + V3 + than + S + V2.
- Inversion occurs after the negative adverb (Hardly/Scarcely/No sooner).
- Example: Hardly had the bell rung when the students rushed out. / No sooner had I sat down than the phone rang.
- Information booster / exceptions:
- Don't use Present Perfect with a definite past-time marker like yesterday, last week, when, etc.
- If you notice "quests" in the stem, treat it as a typographical slip for "guests"; the tested error is the tense after when, not spelling.

Q.175 Arrange the sentence parts:

- (A) to the office
- (B) reached
- (C) Mr. Sharma
- (D) at 9 am

- A. CABD
- B. CDDBA
- C. CBAD
- D. DCAB

Answer: C

Sol: Option (c) is the correct order of the given sentences (CBAD).

Why this order is correct:

- Subject first: (C) Mr. Sharma establishes the subject.
- Main verb next: (B) reached completes the core predicate with the subject.
- Place adjunct then time adjunct: (A) to the office (place) logically precedes (D) at 9 am (time), yielding a clear S–V–Place–Time order.
- The full sentence formed is: "Mr. Sharma reached to the office at 9 am."
- Note (usage tip): In standard usage, reach usually doesn't take to before a noun ("reached the office"). Given the fixed fragments include "to the office," CBAD is still the best-formed sequence among the options for exam purposes.

Q.176 Choose the correct indirect speech form of the following sentence.

He said, "Will you finish your task on time?"

- A. He asked me if I should finish my task on time?
- B. He asked me if I would have finished my task on time.
- C. He asked me if I would finish my task on time.
- D. He asked me if I should finish his task on time.

Answer: C

Sol: The correct indirect speech is: He asked me if I would finish my task on time.

Why:

- For yes/no questions, we use if/whether in indirect speech.
- Reporting verb said → asked (because it's a question).
- Will → would (backshift of tense).
- Pronouns change: you → me, your → my.
- The interrogative form changes to statement order and no question mark.
- Rules of conversion (detailed):
- Yes/No questions: ask + if/whether + clause.
- Backshift: will → would, shall → should/would (depending on usage), can → could, may → might (when the reporting verb is past).
- Pronoun and determiner shift according to the speaker/listener.
- Punctuation: replace ? with .

Why the given options are incorrect:

- (a) uses should and ends with ? . Should expresses obligation, not future-in-the-past here; also punctuation is wrong.
- (b) "would have finished" (perfect) implies completion before the asking—wrong time relation.
- (d) wrongly changes my task to his task and keeps should.

Q.177 Select the most appropriate option to fill in the blank.

I have no objection _____ your proposal.

- A. for

- B. of
- C. with
- D. to

Answer: D

Sol: The correct option to fill in the blank is (d) to.

Explanation: The fixed collocation is "objection to + noun/gerund." Therefore, no objection to your proposal is standard. In meaning: objection = आपत्ति; objection to your proposal ≈ आपके प्रस्ताव के प्रति/विरुद्ध कोई आपत्ति नहीं।

Example: I have no objection to working late if the deadline is tight.

Why other options are incorrect:

- (a) for: objection for X — non-idiomatic with objection.
- (b) of: objection of X — wrong preposition after objection.
- (c) with: objection with X — does not form the required collocation.

Information booster: After the preposition to (here as a preposition, not an infinitive marker), we use a gerund or noun: no objection to meeting early / to the plan —not to meet early in formal usage.

Q.178 Select the option that expresses the given sentence in Direct to Indirect Speech.
He said to me, "Where are you going?"

- A. He asked me where I had gone.
- B. He asked me where I am going.
- C. He asked me where I go.
- D. He asked me where I was going.

Answer: D

Sol: The correct indirect/ direct speech is (d).

Explanation of rules:

- Reporting verb change: "said to" → asked (because it's a question).
- Punctuation: Remove comma and quotation marks.
- WH-question: Keep the WH-word where; do not use "if/whether."
- Tense backshift: Present continuous are going → Past continuous was going (reporting in past).
- Pronoun change: "you" (addressed to me) → I.
- Converted sentence: He asked me where I was going.
- Structure:
- Direct: Subject + said to + object, "WH + aux + subject + main verb...?"
- Indirect: Subject + asked + object + WH + subject + past form of continuous/other tense.
- Extra tip: If the reporting verb is in present/future, backshift may be unnecessary; but with a past reporting verb ("said"), backshift is standard.

Q.179 Select the option that expresses the given sentence in Direct to Indirect Speech.
He said, "It must be raining outside."

- A. He said that it should be raining outside.
- B. He said that it must be raining outside.
- C. He said that it might be raining outside.
- D. He said that it had to be raining outside.

Answer: B

Sol: The correct indirect speech is (b).

Explanation: The modal must here expresses a logical deduction/strong inference (not obligation). In reported speech, must generally remains unchanged when it conveys deduction. So: He said (that) it must be raining outside.

- (a) should weakens the force and changes meaning.
- (c) might reduces certainty from strong inference to mere possibility.
- (d) had to be treats must as obligation, which is incorrect in this context.

Rules of conversion (summary):

1. Remove quotation marks and, optionally, add that.
2. Keep pronouns/time words consistent.
3. Modals in reported speech:
- must (deduction) → must (unchanged).
- must (obligation) → often had to.
- may → might (often backshifted), can → * could, etc., depending on sense.

Structure:

- Direct: He said, "It must be raining outside."
- Indirect: He said (that) it must be raining outside.

Extra tip: If the deduction refers to a completed past event, we may render it as must have + V3: He said (that) it must have been raining.

Q.180 The figure of speech used in "I wandered lonely as a cloud ... " ?

- A. Hyperbole
- B. Simile
- C. Metaphor
- D. Personification

Answer: B

Sol: The correct answer is option (b) Simile.

Explanation: A simile explicitly compares two unlike things using like or as. In Wordsworth's line, "lonely as a cloud," the speaker's loneliness is compared to a solitary cloud using as. (Hindi: उपमा अलंकार— जैसे/जैसा या like/as द्वारा तुलना )

Meanings of all the other given options:

- (a) Hyperbole (अतिशयोक्ति): Deliberate exaggeration for emphasis. Example: "I've told you a million times."
- (c) Metaphor (रूपक): An implied comparison without like/as. Example: "Time is a thief."
- (d) Personification (मानवीकरण): Attributing human qualities to non-human things. Example: "The wind whispered."

Q.181 Select the correct passive form of the given sentence.
"They ought to have completed the task."

- A. The task ought have completed.
- B. The task ought be completed.
- C. The task ought to have been completed.
- D. The task ought to completed.

Answer: C

Sol: The correct active/passive voice of the given sentence is (c) The task ought to have been completed.

Explain the rules of conversion (detailed):

- Active (modal perfect): Subject + ought to have + V3 + Object ("They ought to have completed the task").
- Passive (modal perfect): Move the object to subject position and insert been after have:

- Object + ought to have been + V3 (+ by + Subject) → "The task ought to have been completed (by them)."
- Options (a), (b), and (d) are ungrammatical because they either drop to, miss been, or misuse the verb form.
- Structure:
- Active: S + ought to have + V3 + O
- Passive: O + ought to have been + V3 (+ by + S)
- Example:
- Active: She ought to have finished the report.
- Passive: The report ought to have been finished (by her).

Q.182 Pick the synonym of 'Frivolous'.

- A. Powerful
- B. Essential
- C. Significant
- D. Trivia

Answer: D

Sol: The correct synonym of the given word is (d) Trivia.

Given word: Frivolous — Something that lacks serious purpose or value; silly, light-minded, or trivial in importance. It describes conduct or matters not worth serious attention. (Hindi: तुच्छ, हल्का-फुल्का, गैर-गंभीर)

Example: The committee dismissed the frivolous objections and moved ahead with the plan.

Correct answer word: Trivia — Facts or details that are of little importance; minor or inconsequential information. In sense, trivia stands for things that are trivial, aligning with the idea of being frivolous or not serious. (Hindi: महत्वहीन तथ्य/तुच्छ जानकारीयें)

Example: The quiz focused on movie trivia rather than serious film analysis.

Synonyms: trivial, trifling, petty, superficial.

Antonyms: serious, weighty, momentous, substantial.

Meanings of all the other given options:

- (a) Powerful: having great power, influence, or strength (Hindi: शक्तिशाली, प्रभावशाली).
- (b) Essential: absolutely necessary; extremely important (Hindi: अनिवार्य, अत्यावश्यक).
- (c) Significant: sufficiently great or important to be worthy of attention (Hindi: महत्वपूर्ण, सार्थक).

Q.183 Select the most appropriate option to improve the sentence.

He is living here since 2020.

- A. He is staying here since 2020.
- B. He has been living here since 2020.
- C. He lives here since 2020.
- D. He is here since 2020.

Answer: B

Sol: The correct substitution of the highlighted words is (b) He has been living here since 2020.

Explanation: The marker since + point of time requires a present perfect (continuous) form to show an action that started in the past and continues till now. "Is living ... since" is incorrect because present continuous alone does not express duration from a past starting point.

Grammatical rule used:

· Since/For + time → use Present Perfect (has/have + V<sub>3</sub>) or Present Perfect Continuous (has/have been + V-ing) for ongoing actions.

· Example: She has been studying here since 2019. / I have lived in Jaipur for five years.

· Information booster / exceptions: With stative verbs (know, believe, own), prefer Present Perfect rather than the continuous: I have known her since 2018 (not have been knowing).

· Why other options are incorrect:

- (a) repeats the same tense error ("is staying ... since").
- (c) "lives ... since" mismatches simple present with a past starting point.
- (d) "is here since" is a state but still needs has been for duration (has been here since).

Q.184 Arrange the sentence parts:

- (A) my mother
- (B) bought
- (C) a beautiful saree
- (D) yesterday

- A. ABCD
- B. CBAD
- C. ACBD
- D. BACD

Answer: A

Sol: Option (a) is the correct order of the given sentences.

Why ABCD is correct:

· A (Subject): "my mother" — subjects usually come first.

· B (Verb): "bought" — follows the subject to form an SV core.

· C (Object): "a beautiful saree" — the direct object naturally follows the verb to form SVO.

· D (Adverbial of time): "yesterday" — time expressions typically appear at the end: S + V + O + (Time).

· The result "My mother bought a beautiful saree yesterday." is grammatically and stylistically standard English (adjective "beautiful" correctly pre-modifies the noun "saree").

Q.185 Select the correct active form of the given sentence.

"The house was painted by them last month."

- A. They paint the house last month.
- B. They have painted the house last month.
- C. They were painting the house last month.
- D. They painted the house last month.

Answer: D

Sol: The correct active voice of the given sentence is (d).

Rules of conversion (Passive → Active) with structure:

· Passive (Simple Past): Subject + was/were + V3 + (by + Agent) + time adverbial

· Active (Simple Past): Agent + V2 + Object + time adverbial

· Application here: The house (Subject) was painted (was + V3) by them (Agent) last month (time). → They (Agent) painted (V2) the house (Object) last month.

· Why other options are wrong:

- (a) paint (Simple Present) clashes with last month (definite past).
- (b) have painted (Present Perfect) cannot co-occur with last month; Present Perfect avoids definite past-time adverbs.
- (c) were painting (Past Continuous) shows an ongoing action, not a completed one.

· Structure:

· Active voice: Subject + V2 + Object (+ Adverbial).

· Passive voice: Object of active + was/were + V3 (+ by + Agent) (+ Adverbial).

Q.186 Select the most appropriate option to fill in the blank.
He was deprived _____ his rights.

- A. with
- B. from
- C. of
- D. by

Answer: C

Sol: The correct option to fill in the blank is (c) of.

Explanation: After deprive, the standard pattern is deprive + someone + of + something, meaning to take away legal/normal possessions, privileges, or rights. Hence, "deprived of his rights" is the only idiomatic and grammatically correct collocation. (Hindi: "उसके अधिकारों से वंचित किया गया" — deprived of = से वंचित करना).

Example: Many citizens were deprived of basic services during the crisis.

Explain why other options are incorrect:

- (a) with: expresses accompaniment/means ( के साथ); not used after deprive.
- (b) from: sometimes used after verbs like prevent ( prevent from), but standard English uses deprive of, not deprive from.
- (d) by: typically marks the agent of a passive verb ( के द्वारा), not the thing taken away.

Information booster: Common verb + of patterns: rob someone of, cure someone of, relieve someone of, strip someone of. These all express removal/deprivation.

Q.187 Choose the one which can be substituted for the given sentence.
A man whose wife is dead

- A. Widower
- B. Bachelor
- C. Heir
- D. Divorcee

Answer: A

Sol: The correct one-word for the given group of words is (a) Widower.

Explain the correct answer (with Hindi meaning): Widower means a man whose wife has died and who has not remarried. (Hindi: विधुर)

Example: After years alone, the widower finally decided to join the community club.

Meanings of the given other options:

- (b) Bachelor: an unmarried man (Hindi: कुँवारा)
- (c) Heir: a person legally entitled to inherit property or title (Hindi: उत्तराधिकारी)
- (d) Divorcee: a divorced person; strictly, divorcé (male)/ divorcée (female), commonly "divorcee" in general use (Hindi: तलाकशुदा व्यक्ति)

Q.188 Select the most appropriate option to improve the bold part of the sentence.
We waited for him since two hours.

- A. until two hours
- B. from two hours
- C. by two hours
- D. for two hours

Answer: D

Sol: The correct substitution of the highlighted words is (d) for two hours.

Explanation: Use for with a period/duration ( for two hours, for three days), and since with a point in time ( since 5 p.m., since Monday). The sentence talks about a duration, so for two hours is correct. You can write: "We waited for him for two hours." (Stylistically, to avoid double for, you can also say "We waited two hours for him.")

Grammatical rule used:

- for + period (duration): for two hours, for a week.
- since + point (starting time): since 6 o'clock, since January.
- Example: She has been studying for three hours. / She has been studying since 6 a.m.

Information booster: Since frequently pairs with perfect (continuous) aspects: I have waited since noon. But "since two hours" is wrong because two hours is a duration, not a starting point.

Q.189 In the following question, the first and the last parts of the sentence/passage are numbered 1 and 6. The rest of the sentence/passage is split into four parts - P, Q, R, and S. These four parts are not given in their proper order. Read the sentence/passage and find the most logical order of the parts between 1 and 6.

1. compass is an important tool in navigation.
- P: It always points towards the magnetic north.
- Q: Even in cloudy weather, it shows direction.
- R: It does not depend on GPS or electricity.
- S: Hikers and sailors rely on it during travel.
6. Thus, it remains a reliable tool even today.

- A. PQRS
- B. SRPQ
- C. PRSQ
- D. RQPS

Answer: A

Sol: Option (a) is the correct order of the given sentences.

- P directly explains how a compass works (points to magnetic north) → natural first detail after the topic sentence.
- Q adds a situational advantage (works in cloudy weather), continuing the line of reliability.
- R strengthens reliability by stressing independence from GPS/electricity—a key contrast with modern devices.
- S brings in users (hikers and sailors), showing practical reliance.
- With these supports, the conclusion " Thus, it remains a reliable tool even today" (6) follows logically from reliability claims in P, Q, R and user trust in S.

Q.190 Choose the correct indirect speech form of the following sentence.
Rohan said to Manasi, "I have no rose to give you now."

- A. Rohan told Manasi that he has no rose to give her then.
- B. Rohan told Manasi that he had no rose to give her then.
- C. Rohan told Manasi that he had had no rose to give her then.
- D. Rohan told Manasi that he had no rose to give her now.

Answer: B

Sol: The correct indirect/ direct speech is (b).

Explanation (detailed):

- Reporting verb said to → told (we don't use "said to" in indirect; we use told + object).
- Backshift of tense because the reporting verb is in past: have (present) → had (past).
- Pronoun change: "I" → he (Rohan), "you" → her (Manasi).

- Time word change: " now " → then.
- Conjunction that is used to introduce the reported clause.
- Thus: Rohan told Manasi that he had no rose to give her then.
- Rules of conversion (key points):
- 1) Said to + object → told + object.
- 2) Present (simple/continuous/perfect) → Past (simple/continuous/perfect) when the reporting verb is past.
- 3) Pronouns/time/place words shift to match viewpoint (now→then, today→that day, here→there).
- Example: She said to me, "I have no money now." → She told me that she had no money then.
- Why other options are wrong:
- (a) has (present) after a past reporting verb—tense mismatch.
- (c) had had implies past perfect (a completed past before another past), which isn't implied; original is simple present have.
- (d) Keeps now, which must change to then in indirect speech with past reporting.

- Q.191 Choose the correct direct speech form of the following sentence.
He exclaimed that the flower was looking very beautiful, which was placed in the vase.
- A. He said, "How beautiful the flower is looking, which is placed in the vase!"
B. He said, "What beautiful the flower is looking which was placed in the vase!"
C. He said, "Which beautiful the flower was looking which is placed in the vase!"
D. He said, "The flower is looking very beautiful, which is placed in the vase!"

Answer: A

- Sol: The correct direct speech is (a).
- Rules of conversion (exclamatory → direct):
- Reported exclamations with "exclaimed that ... very + adjective" often become "How + adjective + subject + verb!" in direct speech (exclamatory form).
  - Keep appropriate exclamation mark (!) and quotation marks in direct speech.
  - Time reference may return to a present-time description in direct speech if the speaker is observing it now ("is looking"), which is acceptable in exam transformations.
  - Relative clause (which is placed in the vase) identifies the flower; using is is acceptable as the speaker is describing a present state.
- Why (a) fits: It correctly uses "How + adjective" ("How beautiful ... is looking!") to express admiration and retains the identifying clause.
- Why others are incorrect:
- (b) Uses "What beautiful ..." — ungrammatical; with what you need a noun ("What a beautiful flower!"), not an adjective alone.
  - (c) Starts with "Which beautiful ..." — grammatically wrong structure.
  - (d) Is a plain statement (not exclamatory) and doesn't reflect the exclaimed tone.
- Extra tip:
- Exclamatory patterns: How + adj/adv + S + V! / What (a/an) + adj + noun + S + V!
  - How beautiful the flower looks! / What a beautiful flower it is!

- Q.192 Choose the correct option to complete the sentence.
She gave me a nice_____ on my new haircut.
- A. complement
B. complimete
C. compleement
D. compliment

Answer: D

- Sol: The correct option to fill in the blank is (d) compliment.
- Explanation: Compliment means praise or an expression of admiration (प्रशंसा/तारीफ़). The sentence talks about someone saying something nice about a haircut, so "compliment" fits naturally.
- Example: She gave me a sincere compliment on my presentation.

- Q.193 Choose the one which can be substituted for the given sentence.
An official pardon for offenders
- A. Reprieve
B. Absolution
C. Amnesty
D. Clemency

Answer: C

- Sol: The correct one-word for the given group of words is (c) Amnesty.
- Explain the correct answer (with Hindi meaning): Amnesty is an official pardon, often granted by a government to a class/group of offenders, especially for political offenses. (Hindi: सामूहिक क्षमादान / आम माफ़ी)
- Example: The government announced an amnesty for first-time tax defaulters who disclosed their incomes.
- Meanings of the given other options:
- (a) Reprieve: a temporary postponement of a punishment, especially a death sentence (Hindi: देह स्थगन)
  - (b) Absolution: formal release from guilt or punishment, typically in a religious context (Hindi: पापमुक्ति / क्षमापत्र)
  - (d) Clemency: mercy or leniency shown by someone in authority, not necessarily a full legal pardon (Hindi: दया / दण्ड में उदारता)

- Q.194 Choose the one which can be substituted for the given sentence.
A short amusing story
- A. Anecdote
B. Chronicle
C. Epistle
D. Essay

Answer: A

- Sol: The correct one-word for the given group of words is (a) Anecdote.
- Explanation: An anecdote is a brief, interesting or amusing story about a real incident or person, often shared to illustrate a point or entertain. (Hindi: संक्षिप्त रोचक/मनोरंजक कथा, उपाख्यान).
- Example: The speaker opened with an anecdote about his first job interview to warm up the audience.
- Meanings of the other options:
- (b) Chronicle: a factual written account of important events in chronological order. (Hindi: वृत्तान्त/इतिहास).
  - (c) Epistle: a letter, especially a formal or didactic one. (Hindi: पत्र).
  - (d) Essay: a short piece of writing on a particular subject. (Hindi: निबंध).

- Q.195 Choose the correct option to complete the sentence.
The car remained_____ at the red light.
- A. stationerie
B. stationary
C. stationery

D. stationry

Answer: B

Sol: The correct option to fill in the blank is (b) stationary.

Explanation: Stationary means not moving; fixed in one place, which fits the context of a car at a red light. (Hindi: स्थिर/अचल). By contrast, stationery (with -ery) means writing materials.

Example: Due to heavy traffic, the bus remained stationary for several minutes.

Why other options are incorrect:

- (a) stationerie: Incorrect spelling (intended word unclear).
- (c) stationery: Writing materials (pens, paper). (Hindi: लेखन-सामग्री); does not fit the context of a car at a signal.
- (d) stationry: Incorrect spelling.

Q.196 Select the most appropriate option to fill in the blank.

He is not eligible _____ this post.

- A. with
- B. by
- C. to
- D. for

Answer: D

Sol: The correct option to fill in the blank is (d) for.

Explanation: After eligible, we use the preposition for before a noun/noun phrase to show suitability or qualification: eligible for this post/benefits/scholarship. (eligible = "योग्य/अधिकार रखने वाला"; for = "के लिए"). Using to is acceptable when it is followed by a verb (e.g., eligible to vote), not a noun like this post.

Example: She is eligible for the promotion. / Voters above 18 are eligible to vote.

Why other options are incorrect:

- (a) with: "eligible with this post" is unidiomatic; with doesn't express qualification (के साथ).
- (b) by: "eligible by this post" is incorrect; by usually marks agency or means (द्वारा).
- (c) to: Use to with a verb (eligible to apply), not with a noun phrase like this post.

Information booster (Preposition with eligible):

- eligible for + noun: eligible for admission/benefits
- eligible to + V<sup>1</sup>: eligible to contest/apply/serve
- Related: qualified for, suitable for, entitled to (note the different prepositions).

Q.197 Find the incorrect part of the sentence:

The ship drowned in the sea.

- A. in the sea
- B. drowned
- C. No error
- D. The ship

Answer: B

Sol: Option (b) contains an error.

Explanation of error: Drown is used for living beings that die in water (e.g., The swimmer drowned). For ships/objects, the correct verb is sink (sank/sunk). Therefore, it should be: "The ship sank in the sea."

Grammatical rule used: Verb choice depends on the semantic subject—animate vs. inanimate. Drown (intransitive; humans/animals) vs. sink (intransitive/transitive; vessels/objects).

Example: The boat sank during the storm. / Several passengers drowned after the boat capsized.

Information booster:

- sink-sank-sunk (verb forms).
- founder (of a ship) ≈ fill with water and sink; capsize = overturn.

Q.198 Choose the correct sequence to form a meaningful sentence:

- (A) opened
- (B) slowly
- (C) the door
- (D) he

- A. DABC
- B. DACB
- C. BACD
- D. DCAB

Answer: B

Sol: Option (b) DACB is correct.

Explanation: Standard English word order is Subject + Verb + Object + (Adverbial). Mapping the parts: D (he) = Subject, A (opened) = Verb, C (the door) = Object, B (slowly) = Adverbial → He opened the door slowly.

Why others are wrong:

- (b) DABC: invalid.
- (c) BACD: starts with an adverb, then a verb, then object, then subject → Slowly opened the door he (ungrammatical).
- (d) DCAB: He the door opened slowly places the object before the verb without a structure that permits such inversion—ungrammatical in simple declaratives.

Q.199 Select the synonym of Exquisite.

- A. Crude
- B. Harsh
- C. Delicate
- D. Ordinary

Answer: C

Sol: The correct synonym of the given word is (c) Delicate.

Exquisite: extremely beautiful, finely made, and of exceptional quality; also used for feelings that are intensely felt. (Hindi: अत्यंत सुंदर/सुकुमार/नाजुक, उत्कृष्ट)

Example (given word): The artisan's exquisite carving left the judges speechless.

Delicate: fine, subtle, easily damaged; showing careful and sensitive workmanship or taste—this overlaps with "exquisite" in the sense of fineness and refinement. (Hindi: नाजुक/सूक्ष्म/सुकुमार)

Example (answer word): Handle the delicate porcelain vase with care.

Synonyms: elegant, refined, dainty, fine.

Antonyms: crude, coarse, harsh, ordinary.

Meanings of all the other given options:

- (a) Crude: raw, unrefined; lacking polish or sophistication (Hindi: कच्चा, भद्दा).
- (b) Harsh: rough or severe in effect or manner; grating to the senses (Hindi: कठोर, कर्कश).
- (d) Ordinary: with no special or distinctive features; commonplace (Hindi: साधारण, सामान्य).

Q.200 Choose the part of the sentence that contains an error:
My elder sister is married with a doctor.

- A. a doctor
- B. No error
- C. is married with
- D. My elder sister

Answer: C

Sol: Option (c) contains an error.

Explanation: The correct preposition after married when indicating the spouse is to, not with: " married to a doctor."

Grammatical rule used:

- be married to + person (spouse): She is married to a teacher.
- marry + person (verb, no preposition): She married a teacher.
- be married with + number of children (structure showing family status): She is married with two kids.
- Example: My elder sister is married to a doctor.
- Information booster / exceptions: In passive forms about ceremonies, you may see be married (by the priest), but when naming the spouse, always use to.
